"Yes, sir," said the applicant.

"Your written references seem all right, but tell me more about yourself."

"Well, my wife kept a household account for thirty days. One night after dinner I sat down and in less than an hour found out how much we owed our grocer."

"Hang up your hat and coat," directed the employer. "The job's yours."

'Twas a Lady Asking Observance of Etiquette

The politician, sporting a brand new hat, stepped upon a soapbox in one of the city's toughest districts.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he began.

That was as far as he got. An overripe tomato sped from the second floor of a tenement house and landed squarely in his face.

The startled speaker looked up and discovered a sullen-faced woman glaring down at him.

"Madam," complained the politician, "what's the idea of assaulting me with a tomato?"

"That will teach you, mister," she scowled, "to take your hat off when addressing a lady!"

We Can All Be EXPERT BUYERS

● In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.

● It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world; the feeling of being adequately prepared.

● When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. This advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.
