If Congressmen are to lose the "franking privilege" as well as free passes and free seeds, some of them will begin to despair of democratic government.

Summing up the press dispatches, we might say that if he is not killed in the hazing process, the modern fighting man in either arm of the service stands a reasonably good chance of dying from old age.

The Maryland blue book-the Baltimore Sun almanac-which is prized by thousands of Marylanders next to their family bible, and which they consider as reliable as Webster's, found its way to our desk, Tuesday. It is a ready-reference to political events of 1905, including registration, general election and who's who in public jobs. Its annual arrival is always welcome.

The St. Michaels Comet makes a strong argument in favor of closing the stores early: "The keeping open of stores until late at night encourages loafing, one of the greatest evils of country life. Men and boys congregate about the stoves. Some tell, and all listen to, filthy jokes and unwholesome jests degrading to their morals; and they observe rude acts of behavior ruinous to good manners.

A Scotch scientist claims to have discovered the germ of paralysis, also the fact that it is domesticated, so to speak, in the human system. is not thought that the discoveries aforesaid are going to add in any noticeable degree to the gayety of nations, however satisfactory they may appear to science. Germs are bad enough in their way, but one that we are notified we have always with us, is the sort of knowledge to which the truly wise may reasonably prefer the bliss of ignorance.

A bill was presented in the legislature this week to fix railroad mileage at two cents per mile and to cut off the ten dollars deposit on mileage books. In New York, where it has been tried, it has proved profitable to the railroads on account of the creased tariff. While our lawmakers are revising the law, it would be well to fix the Metal Borders, | Metal Quoins. tariff rate on steamboat lines at a rate not exceeding 1 cent per mile one way or 21 cents for the round trip. This would be a safe-guard for the people of this peninsula, at least and you will be agreeably surprised at those on the line of the B. C. & A. prices. and M. D. & V. Rys. Under the proposed law, either of these lines could carry passengers to their railroad terminus at the 2 cent rate and, if they were so disposed, could add the tariff on the steamboat end also. According to the calculations of the M. D. & V. Ry. Co., we are 38 DHILADELPHIAC miles from Baltimore by rail and RINTERS' SUPPLY water and we pay $1.45 the roundtrip for a 5-day ticket. At the proposed rate, 2 cents, it would cost us $1.52 the round-trip. The Chester River Steamboat Co. and the Queen Anne's R. R. Co. carried passengers for a number of years, at $1.00 the round-trip from Queenstown to Baltimore and, after the Queen Anne's R. R. was extended to Love Point the rate was $1.15.
