Ratcliffe March 17th 1829

Dear Sir

I received your favr. of the 13th Inst. a few days past. I intended to have been at Centre Ville on yesterday when I should have personally seen you, declining writing by the mail. Prior to my receiving your [illegible] I had received respecting you [illegible] in several instances received information which has proved to be true, important [illegible] I think this ought not to be disregarded. It is that one of your Servants, who has been down at Easton with your double carriage twice within a month, or 6 weeks, stated to my informer, that he, & a brother of his, intended to take some convenient opportunity to go off — I still contemplate a short visit to Q. Anns when I will endeavour to see you —

I am respectfully
Yrs &c
