day the jury of inquisition in the case of Martha Singleton, who lives near the Hickory, met again at the Court House, to hear more testimony. Asel Singleton, a cousin of Martha, and his wife Grace Singleton, her sister, both said Martha lived with them for three or four years and always behaved herself. Wm. Wheeler, with whom Marthalives, testified that she had been at his house for seven years and he had never seen anything to indicate that she is of unsound mind. Sometimes she gets a little angry, but she knows what she is doing. He had seen her throw stones at people but she did not hit anybody. She has no education, is subject to fits, and is now suffering from injuries received at the hands of some of the neighbors who attacked the house. Witness heard them coming and got his pap and money and ran to the woods. Martha He staid in the woods all night.

Never ordered any one off of Wheeler's place, because it was not her business to do it. Dr. O. B. Carcaud would not say positively she is of unsound mind, but from what he had heard
