from any cause of excitement."

Secretary Whitney has written a letter of instruction to the naval board who are to appraise the uncompleted cruisers Boston, Atlanta and Chicago. To prevent the board starting out on any false premises, and to correct some false impressions that have gotten abroad, he tells the board that there is no question, so far as known, as to the validity of the contract or the character of work done on the three vessels. He suggests the following plan for appraising the value of the vessels. Assuming the value of the Black and Colored Dress Silks, vessels when completed to be the contract price, the board can, by as- Linens, Hosiery and Underwear, certaining the amount of expendi- Embroideries, Laces and White tures necessary for their completion as required by contract, find out the Ladies' and Misses' Wraps. value of the work performed.
