James Kirkpatrick surv.d partner of Alexander Spiers John Bowman ob.d vs. Henry Bell Ex.r of David Bell dec.d

Upon the question in this case, reserved to this Court from the Circuit Court of Virginia, viz: "Whether the Act of Assembly of Virginia for the "Limitation of Actions, pleaded by the Defendant, "was under all the circumstances stated a Bar to "the Plaintiffs demand against the Defendant, founded on "a promissory note given on the 21st day of August 1772." It is considered by this Court that the said act of Limitations is not a bar to the Plaintiffs demand on said note. And this Court is of opinion that the length of time from the giving the note to the commencement of the war in A.D. 1775, not being sufficient to bar the demand on said note, according to said act of Assembly; the Treaty of Peace between Great Britain and the United States of A.D. 1783 does not admit of adding the time previous to the war to any time subsequent to the Treaty in order to make a bar. And is also of opinion that the agent merely for the purpose of collecting debts mentioned and described in said State of facts is not to be considered as a factor within the meaning of said act of Assembly so as to bring the case within the provisions of said act. By this the Court is not to be understood as giving an opinion on the construction of the note as to the time of payment. March 4th
