SPECIAL NOTICE

last November THE MONTGOMERY PRESS, was particularly identified with the town of Kensington, but upon assuming the position of Editor and Publisher of the Press six months ago it was definitely decided to change the paper to a Bethesda date line, thereby linking it with the future of Bethesda and Chevy Chase. Since then the people, not only of entire county have expressed approval and admiration for the changed Nevertheless there have been some who have regarded it simply as a Kensington town paper, principally because it was at Kensington that it had its entry as second class postal

BETHESDA SOCIETY

Miss Mary Ward Lewis of Bethesda and Dr. Charles Brown Tompkins of Princeton, N. J., were married at noon Tuesday at the home of the bride's parents on Wilson lane.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Lewis, jr., is a member of the graduating class of the University of Maryland, and the bridegroom, who is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Tompkins of Rutland Heights, Mass., is a graduate of the University of Maryland.

Arrangements for the wedding were simple. The bride was given in marriage by her father and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. James H. Straughn of Baltimore, president of the General Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast on the lawn at the side of the house. More than 50 guests were present at the breakfast. Among them were Mrs. Wilson Booth of Salisbury, Md., and her son, Mr. William T. Booth, and Mrs. Arthur Lambert, also of Salisbury.

Later in the day, Dr. and Mrs. Tompkins left for a short wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Lee D. Butler of Kenwood were at home to their friends on Sunday afternoon. The party was given in honor of Mrs. Butler's mother, Mrs. John Fine of Princeton, N. J., who is spending the week here. Guests were received in the living room, and Mrs. Butler asked to assist her in serving punch and tea. Mrs. Frank Defandorf, Mrs. George Nutting, Mrs. Allan Fay, Mrs. Curtis Mumford, Mrs. Wallace Yates, Mrs. Donal Chamberlin, Miss Jane Cox, Miss Lottie Manrose, Mrs. Donald Goodchild, Mrs. Carroll Thomas, Mrs. R. Westel Willoughby and Mrs. Eric Wendelin.

Dr. and Mrs. James Alexander Lyon entertained at a garden party Sunday at Glenview Farm, their home on the Rockville pike. Their garden is one of the most beautiful in Washington and its environs and has particularly fine boxwood. Peonies, pansies and lilies of the valley are some of the many flowers which are now in bloom there.

Assisting Mrs. Lyon was a group of her friends, including Mrs. Mark Bristol, Mrs. Chester Wells, Mrs. William D. Leahy, wife of the Chief of Naval Sligo Park Hills Operations; Mrs. Edward Everett Robbins, Mrs. Wilbur J. Carr, Mrs. A. B. Rudd, Mrs. Delos Blodgett, Miss Nannie Vnson, Mrs. John Edgar Murdock and Mrs. Adman Wyant.
