Meanwhile County Roads Engineer Russell Summers was advised by the Commission that all roads maintenance would end in Talbot until the county repaid a guests on Sunday of Mrs. Thomas' pardeficit of $54,000.

"Not Hopeless"

Berlin-A short time back the Eastern Shore Times published a hot editorial urging that the special session the Legislature pass a law making it legal for a member of the Assembly hold a salaried job in other State departments. A Baltimore newspaper reprinted the editorial under the heading "Vain Hope". Last week the Times ripped off another one on the same su ject, headed it "Not Hopeless", sent marked copies of the paper to members of the Legislature asking that such bill be introduced.

Cityfied Easton

Easton—This town has taken another stride toward a cityfied appearance in the passage of an ordinance that all houses must be numbered. Town Engineer Kastenhuber and Clerk Townsend are making a count of houses and are to advise property owners what numbers to affix. It is estimated that Easton has more than 1200 homes. Streets were smartly marked last year.

Birthday Oddities

Salisbury—Salisbury had a virtual monoply on Eastern Shore birthday news last week. Virginia Louise Dick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McFadden Dick, Jr., in theory is four years old but on Feb. 29 came her first opportunity to celebrate. She is a leap year baby. The next day three brothers, G. Richard Long, Curtis W. Long, and William P. Long celebrated jointly. All were born on the same day, same month, and within a few hours of each other in different years.

Admiral, Maybe Elkton — Vernon "Cotton" Bounds. who graduated from Elkton High School with honors, had his heart set on a naval career and thought he was slated for appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy on the recommendation of Senator Tydings. Then came a hitch. Refusing to wait longer for his appointment to come through, Bounds enlisted last week in the "black gang" and is in training at Norfolk prepared to work his way up if appointment fails.

Seventeenth Child Denton—The seventeenth child for Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Butler was born last Thursday. He is 50, she 45, and fifteen of their children are living.
