

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

WEDNESDAY.....Mar. 6, 1872.

12th Our friends throughout the county are earnestly requested to furnish with all items of local interest transpiring in their immediate neighborhoods.

13th We invite the particular attention of our readers to our remarks in the editorial columns on the subject of exempting the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road from taxation.

14th Mr. Wm. F. Vickers visited his home on Saturday last for the first time since the commencement of the session.

THE TREATY.—The British papers have adopted a much more moderate tone and now say that England will pay whatever the arbitrators decide to the United States.

FREDERICK CITY.—At a recent municipal election, Frederick City went Republican by 672 majority. There was no opposition in 4 of the 7 wards. The republicans polled 12, more votes than at the State election last Fall.

CAROLINE ISLANDS.—The first hearing of the treason case was caught near Denton on Saturday last. The wheat crop of the country looks sickly.

The Court House caught fire last week, but it was soon extinguished.

RICHMOND.—On Friday last, a resolution was adopted in the Conference of the M. E. Church, now in session in Baltimore, looking to the re-nomination of all the branches of the Methodist Church.

BOSTON.—Grama no. 1 of New Jersey is scarcely old. Our people still remember with great interest the news of the visit paid us in 1865 by that accomplished poet, and will be anxious to hear of his doings.

HEAVY SNOW.—On Thursday and Saturday of last week heavy snow storms passed over Dorchester, the latter especially being the last fall of snow we have had since 1865. On Thursday it fell to the depth of six inches, and to the depth of nine inches on Saturday upon the level.

A LITTLE TRUTH.—A subscriber has a copy of this admirable work of fiction through our agents in New York and can scarcely recommend it too highly. It contains altogether the finest delineation of a perfect domestic female character with which we are acquainted, and all its qualities are emphatically good. Address S. W. Cawelt, Madison Square, New York.

THE MARYLAND STEAMBOAT CO.—At the annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Maryland Steamboat Company, held at its office, No. 98 Light St., Baltimore, on Wednesday 28th February 1872, the following named gentleman was elected Director: Wm. L. O'Brien, Frederic Ives, Howard B. Easton, J. M. Jackson and John W. D. Peutz, and at a meeting of the Directors held same day, Howard B. Easton, was elected President, James E. Byrd, Treasurer, and William H. Roberts, Secretary.

THE BALTIMORE SCANDAL.—News came last week just before our going to press of a most remarkable, and if true, diabolical piece of villainy, which we refrained from publishing until some further light should be thrown on the subject.

A gentleman in Baltimore received a letter from a young lady inviting him to a place of assignation, and this letter he handed to the principal of the Sunday School of the Trinity M. E. Church South, of which she was a member. He at once communicated it to her mother, and upon being interrogated the young girl confessed that she had been leading a depraved life for the past two years and stated that she had originally been betrayed to crime by the Rev. Dr. L. D. Houston, the pastor of the Church, one of the best known and most respected ministers of religion in the city. She further stated that Dr. Houston had ruined her, as she is now more or less of his Sunday School.

Dr. HUTCHINSON.—Being questioned by the vestry of the church took voluntarily on her part that he was innocent, and that the charge was a base slander. He so reluctantly resigned his ministerial functions and left Baltimore for Canada, of whom he has numerous relations, and the author of the letter informed him that he was a scoundrel, and that he had better go to the Ecclesiastical Court.

With these various rumors ten feet high in the estimation of Dr. Houston in the blackest shades of human depravity, such as involving young girls to his studio under pretense of a lecture, he is anxious to make known to all the means of cure. To all who desire it, he will send a copy of the prescription used, (true or forged) with directions for preparing and using same, which they will find a sure cure for. See advertisement.

MARCH OF THE DEATHLESS DEAD.

BY FATHER RYAN.

The following beautiful poem was recited at the close of the funeral observances at Savannah, Ga., on the occasion of the re-interment of Confederate soldiers who fell at Gettysburg:

Gather the sacred dust
Of warriors tried and true,
Who bore the flag of our Nation's trust,
And died in the cause, though lost, still just,
And died for me and you.

Gather them one and all!

From the Private to the Chief,
Come they from bower or princely hall,
They fell for us, and for them should fall.
The tears of a nation's grief.

Gather the crimson strown
Of many a brave that lies so low,
Without a name and without a stone,
Gather the Southern slain.

We care not whence they came,
Dear in their lifeless clay;
Whether unknown, or known, to fame,
Their cause and country still the same.

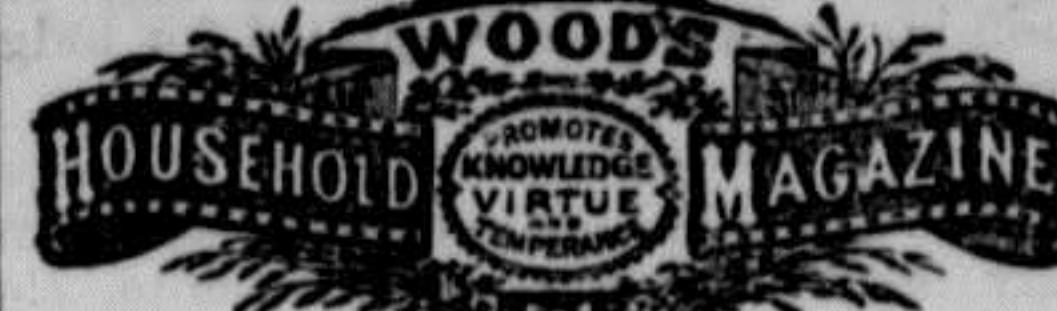

They died—and wore the grey.

Wherever the brave have died,
They should not rest in quiet;
David Hurley, David & Hurley & others
Lie buried in the earth.

On Hurley's this 10th day of February in the year 1872, the said Samuel and Richard Hurley, by David Hurley & others appointed by the original decree to make sale of the real estate cleared to be sold, he and the same are hereby notified that they are to be sold as is now, and that the same will be shown on or before the 15th day of June next. He who sells a copy of this order is to insert in some newspaper published at Cambridge, in said county, once in each of three successive weeks before the 1st day of next.

The trustees report the amount of sale to be $2,000. F. J. HENRY, clk.
