A MUSEUM OF POLITICS, AGRICULTURE,

VOL. IV.

ROCKVILLE, WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1344.

No. 27.

Printd and Published by EDWARD WAITE: EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING. For 1 Square, 3 insertions, every extra do. advertising an estray, -

Twelve lines, or less, constitute one square. If an advertisement exceeds twelve lines, it will be be be not be less that gittered along the large trising. Away with her to the la tone used to command, as he rose banglily in his stirrups. Under the large trising. There were they went so the large trising. The less to appoint officers for what they called the large trising. The large trising is a stirrups of the large trising. The large trising is a stirrups of the large trising. The large trising is a stirrups of the large trising. The large trising is a stirrups of the large trising is a stirrups of the large trising. The large trising is a stirrups of the large trising is a stirrups of the large trising is a stirrups of the large trising. The large trising is a stirrups of the large trial be considered as two and charged accordingly. The streets were thronged with the pop- lions." All advertisements are payable at the time of ulace in gala dresses, for it was a festitheir insertion. Advertisements ordered in till val in honor of the gods. Towards the though only a weak woman, she evinc- troops, he waved his sword and shouted, VII. A distribution of the proceeds of the form even this preliminary measure, as the first three insertions, and 25 cents for each great hall of justice a crowd poured con- ed no other sign of horror or fear. When "Charge!"

the time of subscribing.

POBTRY.

THE GRAVE. O Grave thou hast thy victory! Beauty and strength are laid with thee; Thus is it in each distant clime; Thus was it in the ancient time.

The prophets of all former days; All who win honor, love, and praise, The eloquent tongue, the arm of might, The bard whose soul is love and light, The patriot king, the wise, the brave, Are ever mouldering in the grave.

O Grave, thou hast thy victory!. The desert sands are sown by thee; And years must pass in misery steeped, Ere that dread harvest will be reaped; The desert air is parched and dry, And thousands have lain down to die; The traveller's steps grow slow and faint, His kind hear not his last complaint, See not his last convulsive start, As death is busy at his heart; His grave is in the burning sand, His memory in his native land.

Of old thou hadst thy victory! And Cheops nobly built for thee; Raising thy trophy in the pile, That casts its shadow many a mile. Thine was the gain when rose on high The Egyptian's mother's midnight cry; And when God's angel with the blast Of death among the Assyrians passed; When the unnumbered Persians lay On Salamis at break of day; And when mid revelry, came down Darkness on the Italian town-O Grave, thou hadst thy victory!

Thine are the isles, and thine the sea; The hoary hills are all thine own, With the gray cairn and cromlech-stone, And groves of oak and woods of pine, And the dim ocean's caves are thine. Thy ancient slumbers lie beneath The untilled verdure of the heath: And in the field thy ardent race Outstrips the hunter in the chase; The mariner finds no unknown bay, But there thou lurkest for thy prey.

O Grave, what wo is wrought by thee! What clouded years of misery! What loving hearts hast thou bereft; What joyless, hopeless mourners left; Young innocence without a guide, Beset with snares on every side; Age, with white hairs and chilled blood, Pining in friendless solitude!

Yet, than earth's mightiest mightier, O Grave thou hast thy vanquisher! Long in thy night was man forlorn, Long didst thou laugh his hope to scorn: Vainly Philosophy might dream, Her light was but the meteor gleam, Till rose the Conqueror of Death-The humble Man of Nazareth: He stood between us and despair; He bore, and gave us strength to bear; The mysteries of the grave unsealed, Our glorious destiny revealed; Nor sage nor bard may comprehend The heaven of rest to which we tend. Our home is not this mortal clime; Our life hath not its bounds in time; And death is but the cloud that lies Between our souls and paradise.

O Grave! well might each thoughtful race Give thee the high and holy place: Mountains and groves were meet for thee, The portal of eternity!

since some ceremonial rules for the la- gion. Oh! if her brave soldier had extending far down the thoroughfares crimes, since whatever he does proceeds dies, which we find copied into the Ha- been there, she knew she would have on either hand. The whole city seem- from God? Man has no free will, for ture, it will be found that Mr. Pratt was by a speaker at a Whig meeting, not dies, we will offer a few to the gentle- her. In earnest prayer she sought more violent, if not most numerous, had ment; and what impression can fire neighbor's affairs—go to work and live Do with me as you will." proper station, and you will be respectthat the mob's fury was for a moment sudden hope. The shouts of the popuchoked in admiration. But their heath- lace had ceased simultaneously, and answer.

MISCELLANEOUS.

[From the Ladies Magazine.]

The Christian Maiden. BY MARY V. SPENCER.

10 00 | gods-let her be cast to the lions." It was a high day in Carthage. The the gods-let her be cast to the lions!" them; while far in the van, on a barpetitioner's notice, - - 4 00 sun shone with unclouded splendor on roared the angry multitude. Twelve lines, or less, constitute one square. the white palaces that glittered along the 'Thou hast chosen thy fate,' said the 'Disperse ye knaves!' he cried, in hazards. meanor or hear her fate.

> tors filled it to suffocation, and it was to conceal it from the gaze of the crowd. the sight, the stoutest hearts gave way. with difficulty that the officers could "To the liens with her! Let her be The cry "fly for your lives," rose on Foreign Paupers. keep the crowd from encroaching on cast to them at once. Ho! for the am- every hand, and, darting into the byethe space reserved for the judges. The phitheatre!" shouted the crowd, rush- streets or rushing headlong down the most intense excitement pervaded the ing tumultuously after the condemned main thoroughfare, the mob dispersed more than once an ineffectual attempt spit upon the prisoner, and now and then the street was empty.

the crown, mer, and surprisingly. She stood at the shrank from being made the victim of a thither. We are to-day come from Principles. bar with clasped hands and uplifted coarse and brutish rabble.

thee, will thou sacrifice?" said the præ- mob of the city, who hearing of the shriek from the prisoner and the mention death—the emperor is inexorable."

Notwithstanding the cries for blood, the they might sacrifice to her more sum- rushed towards her. various emotions. Some were secretly "Stand back!" said the captain of exclamations of the lovers as they fell on revenue principles. favorable to the new religion, and others the guard, unsheathing his sword, as he pited the accused on account of her saw the threatening aspect of the crowd. Numidian hunter, now risen to high youth and beauty, but at least half of "Down with him!" cried one of the rank, who had thus opportunely arrived the audience were bigoted Pagans and rabble, hurling a missile at his head .- to rescue his mistress. thirsted for her death. These being the "Give us the prisoner, or you die with most brutal, had the ascendency, as is her." every popular tumult. But all kept si- "Close in, men, close in!" shouted, pense which ever attends the crisis of your lives for the safety of the prisonanother's fate or our own.

To the maiden those sew moments of The little band gathered in a comsilence were crowded with recollections. pact circle round the maiden, and pre-The events of her whole life rushed past pared to maintain the unequal contest. her. She saw once more the pleasant | "Down with them all," shouted one valley where she had spent her child- of the most prominent of the rioters, sheep bells on the distant hill. Then With these words he headed a rush of other associations received. When the short of the reported bill, so as to leave them duty since, by its action, their principles have other associations rose up before her.— the crowd, that hore back the scanty mitted, like wild beasts confined to the sition and in the propo-She saw herself attacked by an angry band of the soldiery like feathers that l wild beast, and saved only by the jave- are swept by the gale. Stones and man midian hunter. which ensued; the mutual pledge of fi- prisoner, in this onset, would have fal- example and arguments of Julia. delity till death; their separation in con- lien a victim to the missiles of the mob. sequence of his entering into the army, but for two humane of the soldiery, who and being ordered to the German fron- covered her with their bucklers. Thus tier with his cohort, moved before her pushed back by the rabble, the guards, like scenes in a magic phantasmagoria. retreated against the wall of a neighbor- sant husband, the hero and heroine of our Then came her coversion to christianity, ling house, and being now covered in the story. rest and imprisonment, and now this cor should arrive from the city legiona questions: First, "Why do they say "which the people were directly to up for their want of principle. I hope scene! She felt that she stood alone, ries. with no friend nor relative to advise; But the futility of this hope was soon in any place; show me where he is. an orphan, poor, and of despised reli- apparent. The mob swelled tapidly, Second, Why is a man punished for gerstown News, with the following interesting appendage:

Now, as our Sanderville friend has de one bosom to lean on in this terrible crisis. But no pitying eye looked on her from the crowd, and seas rolled below the from the crowd many who were secretly fallong since. An old Mr. Jones, of Low well, Mass., on returning from church will of God; and if he had been sitting that morning under the best twixt her and her bold lover. Yet though the cannot do any thing contrary to the crowd many who were secretly fallong since. An old Mr. Jones, of Low well, Mass., on returning from church will of God; and if he had been sitting that morning under the best twixt her and her bold lover. Yet though the cannot do any thing contrary to the crisis. But no pitying eye looked on her from the crowd, and seas rolled below the from the crowd many who were secretly fallong since. An old Mr. Jones, of Low well, Mass., on returning from church will of God; and if he had been sitting that morning under the best twixt her and her bold lover. Yet though the cannot do any thing contrary to the crowd many who were secretly fallong the contrary to the crowd many who were secretly fallong the contrary to the crowd many who were secretly fallong the contrary to the contrary to the crowd many who were secretly fallong the contrary to t voted his efforts exclusively to the la- thus deserted, her faith did not desert perish except by a lawful death, but the hell fire, since he is formed of that ele- constitution was made.

never attempt to carry away, secretly, third and last time;" demanded the præ- surrender her to the people." your pockets full of gingerbread. It be- tor. "Cast incense on the altar of Ju- A sullen murmur of assent ran along questions?" trays your unfitness for decent compa- piter and thou shalt be saved. Refuse the scanty ranks, and the mob, hearing The Dervish replied:

was made to rush on the prisoner, while lashing themselves into a fury so great was made to rush on the prisoner, while lashing themselves into a fury so great the lashing themselves into a fury so ever and anon the shout would rise from that it was with difficulty the soldiers haunches as he reached the guard, the penditures of the Public Money: "Pet chaw Poke root," has been the word could keep the mob from tearing her commander of the cohort addressed his Banks" and Rag Money: Repudiation: with the "Democratic Association" of "Away with her-she blasphemes limb from limb. The slight frame of the brother officer. the gods—let her be cast to the lions." | maiden now shook perceptibly with ter-The object of this angry cry was a ror, for though she had nerved herself on landing, that there was riot in the ci- to a sound and uniform Currency: Op- paring themselves for the coming congirl, scarcely yet in her eighteenth sum- to face the lions, her virgin delicacy ty, and the cause, and I galloped at once position to all Whig Measures and Whig test, some of the "lesser lights" of De-lin of a chance traveller, a young Nu- bricks, meanwhile, filled the air, and I though the soldiers were defended by The gratitude, deepening into love, shields, several were wounded. The the gentlemen to purchase sweet meats on by her recollections of how many | More than half of the guard had now Cazy and said: for the ladies, you should not pocket the dear ties yet bound her to earth disap- fallen; the others were worn out and "I proposed three questions to such for the State Legislature, for the pur- could be that had pleased his rather irmoney and send for the articles upon peared, and she looks firmly at the wounded. The soldiers began to mur- a Dervish, who flung a clod of earth at pose of trying to get a law passed im- religious neighbor so much, and hearti-and thou diest ere high noon!" the mutinous words, desisted, and broke "The clod of earth was an answer to may attempt to advocate. Oh, that Clay tion of James K. Polk; it is just a little honestly—chew your own tobacco in- There was something so meek, yet neath her, under the tramp of many fer pain from the element?" stead of begging-keep yourself in your dignified and courageous in these words horsemen. She started to her feet with The man was confounded, and the en prejudices and thirst for blood soon now was heard, close at hand, the charattained the ascendancy of better feel- ter of hoofs and the shrill sound of the ing. A low sullen murmur ran through trumpet. Like a flock of sheep awaitthe crowd like the half stifled growl of ing the approach of wolves, stood the a famished wild beast, which gradually late riotous mob; now silent, with black deepened into a shout; and then came faces, and standing agape at the sudden "Away with her—she blasphemes the execrations and cries for vengeance. apparition of the horsemen. Down they III. Fair and moderate, but certain and stable a few of the ins and outs. "Away with her-she blasphemes came, the solid earth shaking under encouragement to all branches of industry. bed horse, rose their leader.

tinually, though the avenues leading to the soldiers approached to seize her, she The word struck terror into the popu- on just and liberal terms. was that day to be tried, and the public diately this trace of emotion vanished, avenue, to where it turned to the left, fers, by forced interpretation. curiosity was alive to behold her de- and she signed for them to lead on .- they beheld the glittering lines of caval-Yet there was still lest one mortal seel- ry advancing at a gallop, each file wheel-Within the hall there was scarcely ling in her bosom. As she stepped from ling around continuously as if countless room to stir. A dense mass of specta- the bar she shrouded her face in her veil numbers yet remained behind, and at

He would have spoken further, but at will be rejected with abhorrence!-[Extract]

"Julia! Antony!" were the mutual to the house of the prætor, whose wife both." took charge of the orphan girl. The intelligence of Diocletian's death spread with inconceivable rapidity; and those who were favorable to the Christians, now spoke holdly out. The great mass of the influential citizens, as usual, sided

The young officer himself soon became a Christian, his conversion to that lived the Christian maiden and her puis- graph:

God is omnipresent? I did not see him "elect their Governor."

If you are in business, never bring a The spectators bent early forward and into huzzas. The maiden saw that her his speech. He says he has a pain in had not interfered when Gen. Jackson the nearest to no nomination at all that bill against a man upon whom you have held their breaths, to catch the maiden's hour had come, and sank shuddering to his head; let him show me where it is, was about to hang them. no claim, or who never desired and never did deal with you. It is apt to give

But to come back to home matters: I would say that the Clay Club of Crackwhy does he exhibit a complaint against why does he exhibit a complaint against

why does he exhibit a complaint against
would say that the Clay Club of Crackwhy does he exhibit a complaint against why does he exhibit a complaint against offence.

In short, keep your nose out of your calmly; "Him who ye call the Nazas over the deep roar of huzzas, rose the me? whatever I did was the act of God; trumpet of cavalry, and the pavement what power do I possess? And as he is trict of Columbia. seemed to the kneeling girl to rock be- compounded of earth, how can he suft trict of Columbia.

THE TOWN AL.

Whig Principles.

of the Government. 11. A sound currency, of uniform value.

haughtily in his stirrups. "Disperse, or VI. Just limitations and restraints upon the ed a "Democratic Association." They sales of the public lands among all the States, I am informed they appointed a gentlesubsequent insertion.

Price of subscription will be 2 dollars in addition will be 2 dollars in addition to, or absence or $2.50 cents if paid after 30 days from vance, or $2 50 centsif paid after 30 days from gone abroad that a Nazarene maiden dy felt the langs of the lion; but immediately avowed that he would travel of their local and peculiar institutions. A United States Bank, vs. the Sub-Treasury. him hand and foot to their party, actuat-A Tariff for Revenue, vs. Direct Taxation. | ed the Locofoco brethren in this move, Protection to Home Labor, vs. Protection to must be left to conjecture. Be this as Distribution, vs. Repudiation.

Locofoco Principles.

apartment. The audience as if impa- maiden, struggling and fighting with with the rapidity of magic. By the time To the Victors belong the Spoils: The so did a small half dozen of the Locotient of control, heaved to and fro, and each other to get near that they might the leader of the cavalry had come up Re-establishment of the Sub-Treasury: focos, who, concluding that they were Swarms of Leg Treasurers: Low Wages: not a quorum, adjourned the meeting Dorrism: Violation of the Law of Con- Cracklin District.

The maiden convulsively wrung her by some of the vilest of their dema-

JGHN C. CALHOUN. Fort Hill, September 1843.

MR. POLK'S OPINIONS.

be cast on that gentleman. TEA AND COFFEE. In 1833, Mr. Polk was a member of The fact is, Mr. Editor, the Locos are the Committee on Ways and Means, so used up, that they have nothing but which committee proposed to impose a du- misrepresentation and abuse to depend ty of twenty per cent on tea and coffee, at on in this State. Up to the meeting of the time they were duly free. A Propo- their National Convention, they did preof opinion turned. And the mob, find- sitton was made to strike them out from tend to make a show of principle; but

YET ANOTHER LIE NAMED TO THE faith being doubtless attributable to the counter. - The Baltimore Republican the measure. They are defunct. They On the pleasant shores of the Numid. and Argus, one of the vilest and most cannot be rallied on the Texas humbug, ian bay stand the ruins of a once splen- reckless among the Locofoco papers of the new Locofoco principle; and the did palace. Tradition says that there this State, contains the following para- White house, must get there without where the persecuted sect met, her ar- cess to make good their stand until suc- went to a Dervish, and proposed three "voted against the Reform Bill, by misrepresentation and slander, to make strength from heaven, and he who stood attained the temporary ascendency, and make on itself?" The Dervish took up | Messrs. Pickens and McDuffie, of cible, I suppose?" "No." "Finely When a social party assembles at your by Polycarp among the lions heard her the others, uncertain of their power, a large clod of earth and struck him on South Carolina, have resigned their seats delivered, perhaps?" "No!" again it when a social party assembles at your house and a collection is held among the months are the months and a collection is held among the months are the months and a collection is held among the months are the months a credit. The servant might return and inform the company that the confection-er "don't trust."

The Torch-Light says, that, upon ex- imposed on by this political knavery.

The servant might return and inform the company that the confection-er "don't trust."

The servant might return and into that State, and the eye like that of Stephen when he confronted his mur.

The Cazy, having sent for the Dervish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked—

"Why should we die to protect for an hour or two the life of a Nazarene!" vish, asked— When you attend an evening party | "Wilt thou sacrifice? I ask for the cried one of them. "Comrades, let us "Why did you throw a clod of earth tion of annexation of Texas. These des-said the old sinner, "if ye wont say noat his head, instead of answering his perate scoundrels would sell their coun- thing about it. It was jest a leetle the try, if but to carry out the purposes they heern." And so it is with the nominated their wheat harvest throughout this the Whigs of Cracklin; they are now and the adjoining counties.

For the Maryland Journal. MR. EDITOR: In accordance with a promise, made some time since, to keep you informed of the movements of the two parties in this District, I take out my tablets for the purpose of giving you

You are aware that some of the lead-IV. Peace and union: peace as long as it can be preserved with honor; preparation for vigor- ing men of the Locofocos tried to get up ous war when it is inevitable; union at all an organization of their party in Little Britain; indeed, I believe they went so must have been very hard run to per-

Whether an instinctive dread of Loco-IX. The preservation exclusively by the states foco sub-Treasurers, or a belief that, by this summary method, they could bind it may, the party were called on to meet Henry Clay for President, vs. James K. Polk. at Unity, two weeks after the election of officers, to sign the constitution. Well, the day of the meeting came, and mocracy, the "Peter Funks" of Locofo. Italy; and I bring important news. Dio- "We are opposed to a Protective Tariff. We coism, are amusing themselves, and tryeyes, her lips moving as if in prayer, apparently regardless alike of the howls gled through the streets, until in sight of the mob and the angry looks of the of the amphitheatre. Here at the corjudges.

"Wilt theu sacrifice? Again I ask by a vast crowd composed of the lowest shrick from the prisoner and the mention of the Sth of January.

"Wilt theu sacrifice? Again I ask by a vast crowd composed of the lowest shrick from the prisoner and the mention of the Sth of January.

"Wilt theu sacrifice? Again I ask by a vast crowd composed of the lowest shrick from the prisoner and the mention of the Sth of January.

"Wilt theu sacrifice? Again I ask by a vast crowd composed of the lowest shrick from the prisoner and the mention of the Sth of January.

"Wilt the Locofoco Convention of the Sth of January."

"Which they say have been made by Go-the Locofoco Convention of the Sth of January."

"Which they say have been made by Go-the Locofoco Convention of the Sth of January."

"Which they say have been made by Go-the Locofoco Convention of the Sth of January." tor sternly: "remember—to refuse is condemnation of a Nazarene, had gathered together ripe for mischief. Led on around, and for the first time his eyes of labor in this country to ten or twelve public favor, as they know the person hands, and a large tear-drop started in gogues, they had resolved to assault the her eye. A breathless silence ensued. officers in charge of the prisoner, that for revenue, or to make any discrimination but to ask " Peter Funk" for his authorityyou will find him to possess so oblivious a memory as to be unable to give the name of his informant. While on this subject, I would state that I have, within a few days, been shown a letter from "Distribution and a Protective tariff a gentleman on whom these indefatiga-Language would be too weak to de- are measures which I consider ruinous to ble individuals have pledged Mr. Pratt scribe that meeting. In haste the lover the interest of the country, and especially to bestow a prominent office in this ordered a chariot to be brought for Julia, to the interests of the planting states-I county, in which he (as any honorable lence now, awed by the feelings of sus- the officer, undaudtedly. You pay with and by his commands she was conveyed have steadily and at all times opposed man would do) indignantly denies the truth of the imputation thus sought to limits of their cage and restrained from silion, and in favor of Taxing ten and sidency who opposed their darling subdency, who not only introduced a bill to re-charter the Bank of the U. States. but desended the constitutionality of even a cheer from the Locofocos of Ma-"We will prove, and challenge con- ryland. Thus totally unprincipled, (in "tradiction, that Thomas G. Pratt, the every sense of the word,) they go to her secret baptism in an upper chamber rear, essayed with more hopes of suc- Oriental Anecdote. -A certain man "present whig candidate for Governor, work for the Governor, and seek, by > Writing of the Locofeco nominations. it eloquent?" says one. "No." "For-

But to come back to home matters: I The farmers generally, have comple- District in the county does the true whig waiting for the nominations, by the coun-

