Very respectfully,

Your above-cited claim for increase of pension under the act of May 11, 1912, is rejected on the ground that the evidence fails to show and you are unable to prove that you had reached the age of 70 years at the date of execution of your declaration and, therefore, you have no title to an increase of pension under said act.

Sirs:

Mr. John Armstrong,
#105 West York Street,
Baltimore, Maryland.
