IMMORTALITY OF THE SOUL. By Bynon. When coldness wraps this suffering clay, Oh! whither strays the immortal mind? It cannot die-it must not stay-

But leaves its darkened dust behind;

Then unembodied doth it trace By steps each planet's heavenly way, Or all at once the realms of space, A thing of eyes that all survey!

Eternal, boundless, undecayed, A thought unseen, but seeing all-All, in earth or skies displayed, Shall it survey, shall it recall. Each fainter trace that memory holds So darkly of departed years, In one broad glance the soul beholds, And all that was at once appears.

Before creation peopled earth, Its eye shall roll through chaos back, And where the fairest heaven had birth, The spirit trace its rising track; And where the future mars or makes Its Plance o'er all dilate, to be, While sun is quenched or system breaks, Fixed in its own eternity.

Above, or Love, or Hate, or Fear, It lives all passionless and pure-An age shall flee like earthly year, Its years like moments shall endure. Away, away, without a wing, O'er all, through all, its thoughts shall fly-A nameless, and eternal thing, Forgetting what it was to die.

PROPOSALS

AN EXTRA GLOBE. A severe political conflict is approaching. A "New Coalition" of fectious men are managing at Washington to accomplish their seltish ends at the hazard of their country's peace, prosperity and honor. Extremes have met. The Champion of an unreasonable Tariff and the Author of Nullitication, having no principle in common but a restless ambition. ere found united in their efforts to baffle the President in his foreign negotiations, kindle faction in our halls of legislation, and fill our country with discontent and anarchy. It is time for the people to take the alarm! -The causeless rejection of our Minister to Great Britain, was but the first overt act of this "Holy Alliance" against every thing that is pure in our government and patriotic in its idministration. It will soon be followed by others equally hostile to the interests of the people and insulting to the President of their choice. Instead of devoting themselves to the promotion of justice. harmony and neace. a band of political managers in Congress are spending sleepless nights and anxious days in devising means to array against the President all the salash, avaricious, corrupt and corcupting influences which pervade the Repubtic. With these they hope to vanquish the conqueror of Europe's bravest armies, and close in obloquy and disgrace, the public career of hin - who "has filled the measure of his country s glary." Want are we to expect from the success of this "New Coalition? Will our foreign relations be better managed? Will our laws be executed with more fidelity and energy at home? Will our agriculture, commerce and manufactures flourish more? Will our national debt be sooner paid? Is there hope that the train of public affairs in general would progress better or so well? No; it is not for the benefit of the country that the "New Coalition' has been formed; nor is any improvement in the public prosperity expected from its success. The struggle is for power, for place, for the public treasure. Men who want toreign missions, judgeships and other valuable offices, unable to swerve the stern integriey of Andrew Jackson and sell to him their in-Buence and support, have united with other aspirants to the Presidency in all sorts of combinations to destroy his popularity and detent his re election, that his place may be occupied by one with whom they may bargain activity, and resemblance to his for promotion. It is these men only - men who any other scourge," to their own exclusion from power -that are seeking to fill the coug-

try with complaints and factions. It is the interest and desire of the people to preserve the administration of their government in honest hands. To effect this object, it is only necessary that they guard against deception, and take steps to procure correct information in relation to the administration They will find ANDREW JACKSON as true to his country now, as he was when he put to invaders They will not be content with his simple re election by the same vote which placed him in the presidential chair; but, by securing him an increased majority, they will reward his patriotic devotion and enable him to finish his rareer of public usefulness in glory and triumph. As in the case of Washcare that our Republic shall not be stigmati-zed with the imputation of ingratitude. To enable every Freeman to obtain correct information during the impending conflict, we TRA GLOBE, commencing about the first of May, and continuing until the election of Electors, for ONE DULLAR.
