PROSPECTUS.

IN presenting to the public a periodical en. L tirely new in its clistacter, it will be expect. that the publisher should describe his plan. and the objects he hopes to accomplish. I here is growing up in the United States a numerous population, with literary tastes, who re scattered over a large space, and who, distant from the localities whence books and hierary intormation emanate, feel the miselves at a great loss for that nental lood which education has fired hem to enjoy. Books are chesp in our principal cities, but in the interior they cannot be proured as soon as published, nor without consider rable expense. To supply this desideration is the design of the present undertaking, the chief object of which emphatically in, to make gred reaching chesper, and to put it in a form that will oring it to every man's door. Books cannot be sent by mail, while "The Seto fail in effecting a speedy and safe Restora- lect Circulating Library" may be received at it e Passengers can be comfortably accommoda- tion of the diseased organs.
