Congressional Globe.

In the sheet (which will be found at the several Post-offices) which we have subscribed, is presented a specimen of the paper and typography, through which, after the meeting of the next Congress, we propose to mend the appearance of the Globe. No other newspaper in the United States will be found, after that period to surpass, and very far to equal, the beauty of its mechanical execution, and we trust, by its more worthy than its hitherto been, in other respects, of the extensive and munificent subscription which has so enlarged its dimensions and improved its texture. To the liberal patrons of the Globe, who have followed it with their favor from a feeble semi-weekly, printed at a job press, until it has become handsomely established, in an excellent office, of its own, with presses, types, and all appliances, with presses, and incessant efforts which we have made, as our gradually increasing means have permitted, to render it worthy of the encouragement they have afforded, will be in proof that we are not wanting in grateful feeling for past support, nor in the spirit to deserve and win it, for the future, however we may fall in the requisite business.
 The present enlarged and improved publication, will be observed by the prospectus annexed, will be given to subscribers, after the 1st of December, on the same terms on which the Globe has hitherto been furnished to subscribers.
 In addition to the Daily and Semi Weekly, and Weekly, heretofore issued, it will be observed, that we propose to publish proceedings and debates in Congress. This paper will be printed at the close of every week, during the session of Congress, and will contain, in regular series, a succinct and clear account of the proceedings of each day, together with a brief and condensed report of the speeches made on every topic brought under the discussion. In preparing these outlines, it is our purpose to employ industrious Reporters of Congress of 1789, as a sample for imitation—and will also avail themselves, when ever it is permitted, of the notes of the speaker themselves, to prepare the sketches.
 We will also endeavor, if the space will allow, to give, in the Congressional Globe, the questions of great moment, as proposed by members themselves, for the public. We hope to be able to effect this, by using briefer type, and the greatly increased page now presented. In affording this weekly paper at the rate of one dollar, for all the numbers printed during the session, we may boast of affording the most important information, at the cheapest possible price, and we look for a reimbursement for our labor and trouble, in a very moderate profit, upon a very extensive sale and circulation of the numbers. That the subscription should be paid in advance, is therefore, rendered indispensable, and we throw ourselves upon the generosity of our friends, and ask the favor of them to volunteer their exertions to favor our object;—and we especially solicit from the Editors with whom we exchange, a gratuitous insertion of this notice, together with the annexed terms.
THE TERMS OF THE GLOBE.
 Congressional Globe, published weekly during the session of Congress, presenting a neat abstract of the proceedings of the Senate and House of Representatives, in regular series, from day to day, with brief reports of the discussion of every debated question.
 $1 per session.
 Daily Globe, $10 per annum.

THE UNION TAVERN

EASTON, MARYLAND.
JOSHUA M. FAULKNER.

RESPECTFULLY begs leave to inform his friends and the public in general, that he has taken the above named property in Easton, Talbot county, Md., known as the "UNION TAVERN," on the corner of Washington and Goldsborough streets, immediately opposite the Bank, adjoining the office of John Leeds Kerr, nearly opposite to that of Wm. Hayward, Jr. and directly that of Wm. R. Price, Esq. This house is situate in the most fashionable and pleasant part of the town, with a few paces of the Court House; and a market (I cannot hesitate to say,) equal, if not superior, to any of a like population in this State—he is also gratified in assuring the public, that he has advantages this tavern never before had, viz. A comfortable dwelling adjoining not heretofore attached to the property, and all the property is about to go through a thorough repair, which will enable him to entertain private families, parties or individuals in comfort—he has in his bar the best of liquors, and his Table shall be furnished in season with such as the market will afford. He has provided attentive Ostlers and Waiters, and has determined nothing on his part shall be wanting to give satisfaction. His Hacks will run regularly to the Steam Boat Maryland, for the accommodation of passengers, when they can be conveyed to any part of the adjacent county at almost a moment's warning. Regular conveyances can be had from Easton to the principal cities—a four horse stage runs three times a week to Philadelphia via Centerville; the Steam Boat Maryland twice a week to Baltimore, besides other conveyances in the two Eastern Packets—so that passengers cannot fail to find an advantage in passing this way. Boarders will be accommodated on liberal terms, by the day, week, month or year—It is ordered that the old customers of the house and the public generally, to call and see him.
