Republic of Letters.

THE fifty second number of the Republic of Letters closed the hast went of the work. It was commenced as an essperiment—the liberal patronage it has received as well as the ducted by favor bestowed upon other works of the like kind which has followed in its track shows that the plan of the work is approved, and has given it a permanency which induces the publisher to make such improvement and alterations as he believes will be acceptable to subscribers, and give it a further claim, upon the reading

The publisher has the pleasure of stating that the work will hereafter be edited by

MRS. A. H. NICHOLAS. In making the necessary selections for the Republic of Letters, Mrs. Nicholas will receive the aid and advice of Edward Everett,

Washington Irving, Gulian C. Verplanck, Charles F. Hoffman, The change in the form of the work, quarto to octavo, has met with the approbation of all the subscribers with whom the publisher has been enabled to confer. The work will be published weekly, as usual, at 61 cents each number, or three dollars per year to those who receive the work by mail and pay in advance. - Each number will
