

are amazingly swift and this gives them their chief value among the Arabs.

M. Niebuhr travels.

The utmost care is taken to keep the blood pure and uncontaminated; and the legitimacy of the progeny must be ascertained before sworn witnesses, who think it the most heinous crime to perjure in respect to the descent of a horse.

.ib.