Monday's electrical storm disgusted Old Sol and General Humidity and put them to route. Hope their conduct during the remainder of the summer will have less insanity attached to it.

Very little enthusiasm is manifest among the oystering fraternity. The coming season's opening on Tuesday next will not be greeted by as large a force of tongmen as heretofore. They see nothing in it for September. Many will continue fishing and crabbing for several weeks longer. Oysters on some of the bars seem to be in fair condition. but the demand will be light, it is thought, until late in the month.

Mrs. J. A. Casey, Mrs. Frank Davis and daughter, Frances, visited Rev. and Mrs. D. J. Moore at Trappe, Md., last week. The trip was made by automobile, leaving here on Tuesday of last week. Mr. Casey becoming lonesome ?) left here on Wednesday to join the madam and other ladies. They returned home on Friday and report an enjoyable trip and are loud in praises for the good to Rev. and Mrs. Moore in pleasant places. Mr. Casey speaks of the trip as the tour of his life. Mr. W. McIntire conducted the trip.
