THE JOHN McCAULEY ESTATE

William and Daniel McCauley, of Philadelphia, appeared before the Orphans' Court for Kent county on Tuesday in company with Wm. M. Hurlock and took the first steps looking toward a settlement of the John McCauley estate. These young men stated that they were the nephews of the deceased and as far as they knew were the only heirs. They had not seen much of Mr. McCauley, in fact, had never visited him but kept in touch with him thru friends. Both are married and in business in the city and appreciate the seeming good fortune which is within their reach. They also recognize the help afforded their uncle by his neighbors and state that they expect to show their appreciation in a substantial way. No will has been found as yet, altho it was thought by many that there must have been one judging from expressions made by the deceased only a few days before his death. It is said that Mr. McCauley has a farm in Ireland which he inherited. The estate will amount to about $100,000 including a fine farm, near Kennedyville. The Messrs. McCauley have renounced their right to administer upon the estate in favor of Wm. M. Hurlock.

The Governor has declared Saturday, July 3 as a legal holiday, and all the banks and public offices will be closed on that day as well as on the Fourth.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Marian, as maid of honor. The groom had his brother John Higman, as best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Clara Dorothy Innis, an intimate friend of the bride.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white Georgette crepe, tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lillies of the valley. The maid of honor wore pink organdy and carried pink roses.

FIRST WHEAT BRINGS $4

The record price of $4 a bushel was obtained Wednesday on the floor of the Chamber of Commerce for the first new wheat to reach Baltimore. The receipts, however, were of an exceptionally fine quality and had been well handled by the grower.

There usually is some competition among grain dealers to buy the first new wheat. It is a matter of sentiment with them, and as the supply generally is small it brings a somewhat artificial price. Therefore the price for this lot is not taken as an indication of what the average of the receipts will sell for when they begin to arrive more freely.

It is anticipated, however, that good prices will be paid throughout the crop season. The first receipts came from Virginia and were consigned to Stevens Bros. The first arrivals of new wheat last year came on June 19, also from Virginia. It was of poor quality and sold for $2.75 a bushel.
