A Prosperous Georgia Farmer.

From the Attanta Constitution.

W. B. Glaze, of Whitfield county, ships 100 choice watermelons into Chattanooga every morning, for which he gets $25. These melons, grown high upon the mountain side, at Rocky Face, are universally agreed to be the finest, sweetest, and best flavored in the State, as the fancy price at which they sell indicates, The field in which the present crop is grown is set out in choice varieties of peaches, which will come into bearing in another year, and from past experience it is estimated that they will hit every year, being above the from which he expects to realize $1,200, and grass hay will prove. He keeps four wagons hauling mellons from the field continually to Rocky Face station for shipment, and to Dayton for local sales. He constantly sells fancy melons in Dalton to strangers at 60 and 70 cents each, which are shipped by express in all directions.

He Kills His Man.

"One day," said General Graham, in a recent interview with Eli Perkins, "I met an old soldier who had been wounded in his face, and when I asked him in what battle he had been injured he said: "I got it the first day at Shiloh, sir." "But how could you get hit in the face at Shiloh?" I Bull Run, and when about half way there he met a Johnny Reb in ambush. "What, sir," he answered, "I drew out my revolver and he drew out his bowie knife. Then I took the lead from the start and kept it clear into Washington city, and—." "But how did you kill the man?" "Run him to death," was the reply.

AUDIBLE VEGETABLES.—It is a fashion for the paragraphers to say, when they wish to express wild Western exaggeration, that you can hear the corn grow in such and such a favored spot, but few of them know, remarks the New York Commercial Adverimpossibility is a bit of frozen fact. Corn upon clean, rich ground, just as it comes in tassel, often grows 15 inches in a night, and all over the field, no matter how breezeless quick, blurred crackle as of the uprushing of a million jets of spray, with a murmurfail to recall it as among the most exquis-ite harmonies of nature, or to acknowledge thy between plant life and that of what we Emory, of Quaker Neck, has remarked in our hearing that he has known asparagras to grow an inch in an hour. ____ ROMANCE OF THE BLIZZARD.—A romance begun during the blizzard of last March was concluded one night in a wedding at 40 East New York avenue, Brooklyn. The bride was Miss Mary McEwen, and the groom George Cozine, of Hicksville, Long Island. On the night following the storm Mr. Cozine was plodding wearily through the drifts along East New York avenue upon searching found Miss McEwen buried Your Mutual Wants Supplied a under the snow. He dragged her out, and finding that both her feet as well as her hands and ears were frozen, threw her J. LLOYD McFEELY'S

THE CELORE COMPANY,

An Important Announcement About six weeks ago, while at business, I was suddenly attacked with excruciating pains in my feet, knees and hands. So severe the attack that I took my bed immediately, and in two or three days my joints were swollen to almost double their natural size, and sleep was driven from me. After suffering the most excruciating pain for a week, using liniments and various other remedies, a friend who sympathized with my helpless condition, said to me: condition, said to me;

"Why don't you get Swift's Specific and use it. I will guarantee a cure, and if it does not the medicine shall cost you nothing."

I at once secured the S. S. S., and after using it the first day, had a quiet night and refreshing sleep. In a week I felt greatly benefitted. In three weeks I could sit up and walk about the room, and after using six bottles I was out and able to go to business. Since then I have been regularly at my post of duty, and stand on my feet from nine to ten hours a day, and am entirely free from pain. These are the plain and simple facts in my case, and I will cheerfully answer all inquiries relative thereto, either in person or THOMAS MARKILLIE, 11 W. 18th street, New York City. Nashville, Tenn.—I have warded off a severe attack of rheumatism by a timely resort to Swift's Specific. In all cases where a permanent relief is sought this medicine commends itself for a constitutional treatment that thoroughly eradicates the seeds of disease from the system ease from the system.
