The suit we referred to grew out of a Seneca Chief Wheat transaction between Mr. Ahalt and several traveling sharpers about a year ago in Frederick county. These men by certain representations induced Mr. Ahalt to give them his note for $50, and as soon afterwards as possible they exchanged the paper with Mr. Sexton, of Woodsboro', for a horse. Ahalt refused to pay the note on the ground that it had been obtained from him by fraud. Judgment was given against him, however. by the magistrate, but on appeal the jury reversed the decision, and thereby relieve Ahalt of any legal obligation to pay the
