CHESTERTOWN - MARCH 29,18

What Tickled a Hoosier.

One day I was riding alone a driveway in Indiana when I came upon a pile of bedding and articles of crockery and hardware in front of a farm house, and seated on the horse block was a corpulent old man with a very red face. Naturally enough I asked him what had happened, and he went into laughter which lasted a full minu before he could reply.

"Them duds belong to Ben and Mary." "But who are Ben and Mary?" "Ben's my-my-ha! ha! ha! I've laffed till I'm almost dead. Ben's my son, and Mary is his ha! ha! ha!—wife." "But who tumbled those things of

"I did."

"And where are Ben and Mary?" "She's gone home and he's broke for the woods. Stranger, excuse me, but I'd have to laff if there was a corpse in the house. ha! ha!"

And he yelled and whooped until he could have been heard half a mile. When he sobered up a little I asked: "Is there a joke in this anywhere?"
