M. E. CONFERENCE NOW IN SESSION

The Wilmington M. E. Conference is now in session at McCabe Church in Wilmington. An interesting session is anticipated.

Bishop Wilbur Patterson Thirkield, of Chattanooga, Tenn., who is to preside over the conference, arrived and was at the reception given by McCabe Church to the conference members and visitors. He is stopping at the Hotel duPont, where he held his first cabinet meeting with the four district superintendents.

The district superintendents at a meeting practically completed their tentative lists of appointments for the inspection of the bishop, but to say that everything is satisfied at this time would be a mistake. The main everything is moving smoothly, the appointment of a pastor for McCabe Church is giving the district superintendents and the bishop some worry.

McCabe Church has invited the Rev. William E. Harrison, Jr., pastor of Madison Avenue Church, Baltimore, to come to that church next year and he has not only accepted the call but has resigned his pastorate in Baltimore.

MILLINGTON NOTES LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Just as soon as Millington's new fire house is completed, it is planned to place a tablet on the building as a memorial to the boys of Kent and Queen Anne's counties who were killed in the great war. Citizens of Millington, by constant plugging, have raised sufficient funds during the last two years to purchase a first class fire fighting apparatus, and recently gave out a contract for the erection of a modern and up-to-date fire house.

At a meeting the fire company held recently it was decided to purchase a tablet to mark the date of the erection of the new building, and it was suggested that the tablet be also a memorial to the war dead of Kent and Queen Anne's. The dividing line of the two counties runs thru Millington. This suggestion was immediately acted upon and completed the tablet will be placed upon it as a perpetual reminder of those who made the great sacrifice in America's last war.

Robert M. Logan and his little daughter, Matilda, visited his little daughter, Ellen, last Sunday, who is in the Delaware Hospital, Wilmington, for treatment and whose condition still seems to be very little improved.
