H. F. Jefferson, proprietor of the big Chestertown department store, observed his 20th anniversary this week by a special sale which was appreciated by the public. Mr. Jefferson in an interview with the News man took pardonable pride in stating that he founded the business in the firm conviction that the only way to lasting success lay thru friendshipfriendships based upon honest quality fair prices — conscientious service and the growth of the store has justified this faith. Just 20 years ago Mr. Jefferson entertained his help at the Voshell House. This year they were given a fine reception at the elegant home of the proprietor. So that with the passing years Mr. J. has added a helpmate and charming daughter to
