Washington Freezes Ball
Navy's attack had weakened before the Washington defense and the Shoremen began to play along safely. "Freezing," in other words, for a while. A foul goal by Fiori, Washington, and one by Craig, Navy, was all final efforts would yield and the Eastern Shoremen jubilated in one of the greatest victories of their career. Dumschott, Carroll and Seib shared the major honors for Washington, while Captain Parish, Graf and Jones were the high its for Navy.
A glance at the scoring indicates the closeness of the game in general. Each team registered seven times from court and each had nine chances from the free zone, Washington being successful in six.
The Washington team was composed of Dumschott and Carroll forwards, Seib, centre, Fiori and Cavanaugh, guards.
The referee was Holen, of Loyola and umpire Deering, of Columbia. Lieut. Harry Derringer, of Chestertown, has been helping to coach the Navy team and was of course much disappointed that his excellent team did not win.

TRAIN COLLIDES WITH AUTO
"Bus" Hadaway and "Shep" driving T. C. Hadaway's delivery auto collided with the train as it was returning from Chestertown depot to the Cooling Station. The accident occurred at J. G. Usilton's crossing. No one was hurt but the car was badly damaged.
The accident was the result of the auto being stalled on the crossing.

TERRIFIC WIND AND RAIN STORM
Chestertown Firemen On Duty Until After Midnight — Electric Wires Down—Strong Wind.
A North East storm accompanied by rain and snow struck Kent county Wednesday night. Electric lights in parts of Chestertown were put out of commission, but H. B. Hudson and his able force soon remedied defects.
Big trees were blown down on John D. Uria's lawn, court house yard, and elsewhere.
Several calls to the Volunteer Firemen were made and small fires extinguished.
The chimney on Christ M. P. Church took fire, also crossed wires caused some concern at A. S. Turner & Sons, Thos. H. Meeks' home, J. W. Russell's home and at Bacchus' coal yard.
The electric lightning system was put out of commission about 10 o'clock and the town was in darkness for the balance of the night.
The Tolchester ferry steamer on its evening trip to Baltimore was caught by the gale when in the middle of the bay and had to proceed to Annapolis, where it anchored for the night. Trees, fences, wires and signs were blown down in all parts of the county. Telephone communication was interrupted and the telephone company estimates the damage to its wire system at $5,000.
The windmill on W. F. Jarnell's blew down, and several silos in various sections of the county.
Capt. Frank Satterfield, of the Rock Hall-Bay Shore ferry, reported storm of Thursday night week the worst in his experience. The ferry was the only vessel to cross the upper bay during the day. It was forced to detour by way of Poole's Island on account of the ice. Heavy seas, which washed over the vessel at times, were encountered in the open spaces.
The boat was clothed with ice when she reached her pier at Bay Shore with her funnel torn down by the wash of the waves and the force of the gale. Because of this and other slight damage it was found necessary to put the vessel in for repairs. She was out of commission for several days.

HAND OF DEATH
Mrs. Emma E. Parks, widow of James T. Parks, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clayton L. Crew, in Wilmington, last Wednesday. Mrs. Parks had been in poor health for the past ten years and death was due to infirmities of advanced age. Interment was made in Baltimore, her former home, on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Parks was a sister-in-law of the late Rufus E. Parks, of Chestertown, and has a number of relatives in the town and county.
Charles Thomas Milbourn died on Friday, January 29th, at a Baltimore hospital, of influenza, aged 46 years. He leaves a father, Samuel R. Milbourn, of Quaker Neck, one brother, Grover C. Milbourn, and four sisters, Mrs. Cora Bishop, Mrs. Henry Hughes, Mrs. Benjamin Cranor, Mrs. Geo. B. Montgomery, of Los Angeles California. The remains were brought on Saturday and funeral and burial service held at Chester cemetery on Sunday at 1 p. m., Rev. N. O. Gibson officiating. The bearers were Grover C. Milbourn, Henry Hughes, Edgar Bishop, Hyland Orem, Dudley Orem, Morris Walls. C. L. Dodd, undertaker.
George Rauthburn Hadaway, a highly respected resident of Still Pond, passed away Monday morning in his 73rd year. He was born on Truman's Island. When a young man he moved to Baltimore, then to Kent county, where he has lived for fifty years. He followed farming as a livelihood and through close attention to hard work he was considered one of our most progressive farmers. A man that was loved and respected by all. He was a devoted member of the I. U. Church. He is survived by his devoted wife, Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Hadaway, and loving children, Mrs. Edward Guiser, Townsend, Del.; William Hadaway, Still Pond; Mrs. Sidney McCaull, Baltimore; John H. Hadaway, of Philadelphia; Thomas Hadaway, of Lynch; Wilbur Hadaway, of Lynch. Funeral services were held at the M. E. Church, Still Pond at 12 o'clock, Rev. S. S. Hepburn and Rev. Mr. Sheekley officiating. Interments in Still Pond Cemetery. The bearers were his five sons and one grandson; B. R. Fellows, undertaker. It

WASHINGTON COLLEGE WINS A SPLENDID VICTORY OVER THE NAVY
Score 20 to 19—Great Playing By Coach Kibler's Team—Home Town Proud Of The Team.
Several brilliant basketball games have been staged at the Naval Academy in recent years, but none perhaps measured up in fierceness of play and keen excitement among the spectators as that which attended the annual contest between the Annapolis Midshipmen and Washington College, of Chestertown, Md., Wednesday. Washington won by the narrow margin of a point, the final figures being 20 to 19. There was not a fraction of a minute that did not produce a thrill.
Both institutions were represented by practically veteran combinations and were keyed to the highest pitch for the fray. The Midshipmen probably were stirred more so. They were eager to avenge the defeat suffered at the hands of the Eastern Shoremen last season, which, by the way, also was a thrilling game. But Tom Kibler's charges were on the job all the time.
First Blood To Shoremen.
The visitors held a one-point margin in the early stages of the game as the result of two foul tosses, against one for Navy. A field goal by Hamilton, followed by a foul toss by Craig, gave the Midshipmen a 2-point margin, and they held a slight advantage through the first half. About midway of the period Navy was leading, 8 to 3. That was the greatest advantage either team held throughout the game. Two brilliant tosses from mid-court by Dumschott, flashy forward of the Shoremen, and an other by Seib, pulled the visitors up. Meantime 3 points were all the Naval lads could gather, and when the half ended Navy had a count of 11 against Washington's 9.
Players and the big gallery alike were on their toes when hostilities were resumed in the second half, for it was realized that a battle royal was on. Fred Dumschott put his team in the van with a spectacular field goal and foul toss. Jack Carroll got a field counter increasing the lead to 3. Then Jones tallied for Navy and the count was Washington 14; Navy 13. Carroll registered another double-decker, while Graf more than countered for Navy with a field goal and foul shot, thereby knotting the score at 16-16.
With eight minutes more to play, the teams were going at one another in fast and smashing fashion, and the spectators were wildly enthusiastic. Dumschott got a foul goal, but Craig came along with a field toss and Navy again was ahead one point. Carroll's fine one-hand toss gave Washington a like advantage. Four minutes, and then the referee's whistle.

REV. J. H. FITCHETT'S DISAPPEARANCE MYSTERY
The News last week referred to the disappearance of Rev. J. H. Fitchett, a former pastor in Chestertown, from his home in Pocomoke and it was thought he was drowned. The pastor disappeared from his home about one week ago after some reported trouble with one of his parishioners. This, so it is alleged, took on the character of some disturbance by Fitchett of the domestic relations of one—Harrison Hargis. Harrison resented, so it is said, the presence of the preacher in his home; and being somewhat hot-headed, as described by those who know him, it was feared that either evil had befallen the pastor, or fearing ecclesiastical justice, he had decided to end his life. His friends can not account otherwise for his disappearance.
The News man talked with the editor of the local paper in Pocomoke and learned that every effort is being made to find the body of the preacher. Hargis is a porter on a Pullman car and, it is alleged, came home and found the parson at his house. Here the scene closes. Hargis is being kept under surveillance but gives no clue.

WEDDING NOTES
At five o'clock on Saturday afternoon, January 30th, 1926, old historical St. Paul's P. E. Church of Kent county, Md., its colonial structure of red brick over run with English ivy and surrounded by giant oaks and massive evergreens, became the scene of one of the most attractive weddings—I dare say to take place in Kent county this year.
This Old Puritan Church was made to look even more colonial by the simple but most beautiful of all decorations, candles; to each pew end was attached a miniature colonial column about six feet high, around which artistically climbed ivy. Top of each column was a lighted candle and the side walls, chancel and altar were also aglow. Banded in between and behind the many candle sticks and rare old candelabras were evergreens and cut flowers. In this setting with the soft mellow tones of the organ throughout the ceremony, Miss Angelina Bard Skirven, the attractive and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Skirven, became the bride of William Belt Townsend, a prominent young business man of Chestertown, Md., and son of Mrs. Lottie Evans Townsend, and the late Sidney P. Townsend.
The bride was preceded up the aisle by the four ushers, Charles A. Skirven, her brother, Willis Usilton, John Townsend, a brother of the groom and Frank Connelly.
Following the ushers came Miss Helen Blackiston, a cousin of the bride as maid of honor. Miss Blackiston wore powder blue georgette crepe and carried pink sweet peas. After her came little Miss Margaret Anne Brittle as flower girl. This dainty little miss was dressed in pink with a picture hat and carried a basket of spring flowers. Next followed the bride on the arm of her father, who gave her away. The bride's gown was of white crepe, trimmed with rose point lace. She wore a veil with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and maiden hair ferns.
The bride was met at the chancel by the groom and his best man, Rolph Townsend, also his brother and the Rev. C. L. Atwater, rector of Emmanuel Church, Chestertown, who officiated, the usual impressive Episcopal service being used.
Immediately after the ceremony a buffet supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, Gault's Field Farm, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend leaving soon afterwards among the usual hilarity for a honeymoon to points North.
The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's Seminary, also a member of Old Kent Chapter D. A. R., and enjoys a host of friends throughout this and adjoining counties.
A few of the out-of-town guests, who attended the wedding were Mrs. Anne Pennington Trot, of Wilmington, Del.; Mrs. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Wills and Mr. and Mrs. Reindollar, of Baltimore.
