Chestertown Rotary Meets

The Daily Vacation Church School opened at Still Pond on Monday morning with fifty-four boys and girls present.

The teaching staff is as follows: Beginners' Department, Miss Henrietta Matthews, principal; Primary Department, Miss Anne Bonwill, principal; Miss Clara Medders, teacher.

The first event on the program, as usual, was "eats" and songs. Then followed a unique little game, played with a lemon, a box of candy and an alarm clock.

The lemon was passed from man to man around the table and the alarm clock from lady to lady.

The game was started and the lady who had the candy kept it; and the man who had the lemon paid for the candy. Marion deK. Smith, W. R. Huey the lucky one at the table.

George Bahlke in his address gave a clear conception of Rotary as seen by the "grandfather" of the thirty-fourth district, George himself.

Lynn Gillespie, song leader of the Elktion Club, led the singing in the absence of the Chestertown leader, Conlyn Noland.

Music was furnished by the Chestertown Orchestra.

About 60 were present including several from Elktion and Easton clubs.
