"Chatauqua" Draws Large Audiences In Chestertown

The Chatauqua has come and gone leaving a good taste in the mouths of our people. While in many instances the program was not up to previous standards, especially the music, the lectures, plays and Elsie Baker were more than worth the while.

One of the most entertaining and thought-provoking lectures was that delivered by Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, the "Chinese Theodore Roosevelt," at Monday's Chatauqua session, the good-sized audience sitting enthralled for over an hour as the distinguished educator and diplomat from the Far East gave in perfect English a discussion of the China of today and a clear-cut exposition of the relations between his country and ours, the tapestry of his talk being brightened by frequent threads of sparkling humor.

The speaker began his talk with an interesting and amusing discussion of the difficulties which the Chinese have in mastering the English language. The first part of his serious discussion began with the China of Manchu days. During this "first chapter" he was garbed in the flowing robes of old China and with the traditional queue. As he commenced to talk about the China of today he doffed the robe, removed the queue and stood forth dressed in the Occidental fashion.

36 Cups Of Tea A Day.
"Thirty-six cups of tea a day keep the doctor away," said Dr. Tehyi Hsieh, in a delightful talk with a Kent News reporter Monday afternoon during which he told of the origin of the use of the tea. Dr. Hsieh says that he has not had a drink of raw water for the last 26 years, claiming that the use of tea keeps him in fine physical condition. Not one in a million of Chinese who use tea, he says, dies of stomach trouble. He qualifies by saying that he uses only Jasmine tea, which is an expensive type but well worth what it costs.

Mr. Hsieh, speaker of tea, says that a Chinese emperor more than 4,000 years ago ordered his people to boil water before it was used for domestic purposes. This made the water flat and somewhat distasteful. The emperor then offered a banner to the one who would find a way to make the water more palatable. A monk observed the monkeys and learned that they carried certain leaves and flowers, which they dropped when they were about to pluck fruits from the trees. He secured some of these flowers and put them into the boiling water. The result was a brew of tea as we now know it and from that the use of tea became universal among the Chinese and was carried into other countries.

Dr. Hsieh is slight of figure, short in stature, is alert, vivacious, witty and picturesque in his language. He is styled the Roosevelt of China. He speaks English fluently and far more distinctly than the average American. He is a graduate of Columbia University, England, a Mason and a Methodist. He has traveled in 48 countries and represented China at the Williamstown institute of politics.

The guarantors at Chatauqua were called upon for only $3.50 each to make up this year's deficiency. The guarantee is $1800.

Miss Rich, the superintendent, was pleasing in appearance, tactful in her presentations and skilled in her management of this week's program.

At the Chatauqua tent the Juniors have had a grand week. They elected Ann Kreeger mayor for their town. They collected money for the elementary school and did various other nice things. Their appearance Monday evening on the stage was enjoyed by all and the speeches were well delivered.

Uncle Eli and his company were fine on Wednesday night. Clean fun, refined performances and skilled musicians greatly pleased the big audience.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Five women and one young boy were injured Tuesday when two touring cars collided as both were approaching Tolchester Beach.

Mrs. Thomas Bryan, of near town, who was driving one car, sustained wounds about the head and body as also did Mrs. Mattie Baldwin, of Rock Hall, driver of the other car. Others similarly injured were Mattie Baldwin, Bernice Ashley and Mildred Frazier, of Rock Hall. Ollie Frazier sustained a broken arm, after being treated by Dr. Frank W. Smith, of Fairlee, and Dr. H. P. Copeland, of Chestertown. All were sent to their homes.

Miss Mildred Hoyle, of Fairlee, was badly hurt in an automobile accident near Washington, D. C., last week. Miss Hoyle with Mrs. Russell W. Day and Roland B. Lay were on their way to Philadelphia when the accident occurred.

Miss Hoyle responded to treatment at the Georgetown University Hospital and is now convalescent.

On Sunday last near Brook's Mill, Chestertown, a Dodge Sedan was wrecked and the occupants, Thomas Davis and wife, of Newark, Del., were injured, but not seriously.

Miss Ella Watkins suffered a severe injury of the eye Tuesday when a car in which she was a passenger, collided with a touring car, near the town limits. Mrs. Emory Bonwill and her young baby, were in one of the cars and escaped unhurt.

CARNIVAL PARADE SEPT. 16, 1926

This committee is making big preparations to make this one of the largest and most beautiful spectacular features ever presented in Kent county.

To do this requires money, hence collectors for this expense will be out during the coming week to solicit contributions.

We feel this part of everyone's duty, the same as it is the duty of the firemen to respond as quickly as possible when called upon, so if any are missed and not called upon in person, do not feel hurt. You have the mail carrier and also check books and all remittances can be sent to the Chestertown Fire Company, Chestertown, Md.

The Newark Band of 25 pieces of Newark, Del., has been engaged to lead the parade. They will be followed by the school children of Kent county. 1500 special invitations will go forward to them and distributed by their teachers on September 14th, when they report for school. These invitations will be sent for those of the fifth grade up, but others who are in lower grades but of large size are invited also and small children will be welcomed if accompanied by older persons.

The committee is making big preparations for the comfort and care of the children. They will be taken from the line at a point where they can view the parade themselves without being crowded or in the least discomforted.

No children will be allowed torches but they will have flags, fancy hats and caps, fancy umbrellas and Japanese lanterns, all persons in line will be cautioned to use the utmost care and lookout especially for small children.

Special committees throughout the county have been formed who will call on you during the coming week to help defray part of the expense. One former resident has just sent $4.00 for the cause, his home is in Florida and he is well known.

So far 16 companies have accepted invitations to be present, those having bands will bring them along. We will have plenty of music. It is expected from 1500 to 2000 will be in the parade, so let this be taken as a summons for every Kent

County Citizen to be on hand Sept. 16th, and to not only take part financially but press yourself in service to a good cause.

WHAT HELPED TO MAKE BIG WHEAT YIELDS IN KENT

The wheat yield this year on the Dal-Mar-Va Eastern Shore has surpassed all other years in quantity of production. Word received from Dr. Milton Campbell, President of the H. K. Mulford Company, at Philadelphia, by the Research Department of the Dal-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association, accounts in part for this yield. The farmers may well clip this information for future use.

Dr. Campbell states that he had twenty acres of wheat planted on his farm, known as "The Anchorage," in Talbot county, and the yield was in excess of 66 bushels per acre. The formula for fertilizer used and the amount put on is as follows: 250 pounds of acid phosphate, 200 pounds of tankage, 8 per cent ammonia, 100 pounds of muriate of potash per acre. Dr. Campbell continues: "The ground was very carefully prepared and worked a number of times before the wheat was seeded, and the wheat itself was a seed which I have grown for a number of years on my farm, carefully cleaned each year and free from all extraneous seeds."

The experience of Dr. Campbell in securing a large yield from the correct use of fertilizer is confirmed in a recent pamphlet entitled "Wheat Fertilizer for Sassafras Soils" which is being distributed by the Research Department of the Dal-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association.

These experiments show that the average annual net return to the farmer is increased as he uses the correct fertilizer formula. He writes: "The untreated plot gave an average yield of 10.4 bushels per acre with net returns amounting to $14.38. Where single fertilizer materials were applied in increased yield and net returns. The yield was 16.3 bushels per acre with a gain of $19.99 above the cost of the fertilizer, cost of applying, and interest on additional investment. Proper fertilizers do more than increase the yields, they increase the quality also." Just how this is accomplished Dr. Schuster discusses in his article.

"Wheat Fertilizer for Sassafras Soils" is illustrated and is a reprint from "Better Crops," August, 1926, and was printed with the compliments of The Potash Importing Corporation of America for the Dal-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association. Copy of this pamphlet may be secured from the local Chambers of Commerce or by writing the Director of Research, Dal-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association, Salisbury, Md.

WINS $51,500 CASE

Stephen R. Collins, Attorney of Chestertown, acting for the creditors of Mrs. Emma A. Snitcher and of Mrs. Elizabeth Jarrell, by an order of Court handed down by Judge Lewin W. Wickes on Thursday, obtained $51,500 from the creditors of the estate of the late Clifton L. Jarrell. Testimony was taken on the case and argued before Judge L. W. Wickes early in July. Mr. R. E. Kanode, Attorney of Baltimore and Herbert E. Perkins, Esq., of Chestertown, representing the creditors of Mr. Jarrell argued that these claims should not be allowed.
