TOMATO PROSPECTS NOT YET VERY BRIGHT

Representatives of packing houses who have recently visited Kent county do not speak in encouraging terms regarding the outlook for a larger price than 25 cents during the season because of the disturbed condition of the canned goods market, but the growers contend that by greatly reducing their tillage the coming season the congestion in the canned goods market can be relieved, and that it is useless for the farmers to be induced to grow tomatoes for less than 25 cents a basket at a fair profit. Efforts are being made by the Kent County Farm Bureau officials, who handle the tomato situation in the county for a very large percentage of the growers, to induce the farmers to hold out for 25 cents, because it is the generally accepted opinion among the growers that if a few contracts are made in the county at a lower figure it will serve as the entering wedge for the packers to defeat the efforts of the growers to secure what they consider to be an equitable price.

BAY BRIDGE WORK TO BEGIN JUNE 1ST

Preliminary surveys of the site of the proposed bridge across the Chesapeake Bay will begin at once. W. Roscoe Bonsal, one of the backers of the project, asserted last Friday night. Senator Beck and the Kent county members of the House were active in the passage of this important legislation. It will be marked as one of the most constructive acts in recent years and bring to Kent county that publicity which will open to the world the door to our wonderful Chesapeake Bay country.

The House of Delegates passed the bill Friday without a dissenting vote. It was ratified by the Senate last week. The Governor has signed the measure, which gives the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Company the right to span the bay. The cost will be $10,000,000, or more.

Mr. Bonsal explained that a mass of detail concerning construction of the bridge already had been prepared, but that before construction could be started it would be necessary for engineers to make a number of surveys, both on land and over the water.

Work May Start Before June. He said that he expected actual construction to begin before June 1. The work will be pushed forward rapidly during the summer and fall months, it was asserted. Mr. Bonsal estimated that the bridge should be completed two years after the beginning of actual construction.

Mr. Bonsal, who is an engineer and vice-president of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, will supervise the engineering work. Although he lives in Charleston, S. C., he has opened a home in Baltimore in order that he may keep in touch with the work.

To Connect With Roads. The bridge will be constructed from a point north of Bay Shore, on the Western Shore, to a point midway between Tolchester and Rock Hall, on the Eastern Shore. The State Roads Commission has agreed to connect the termini of the bridge with existing highways on both sides of the bay. Only short stretches of road will have to be constructed to accomplish this.

The plans call for a bridge about ten miles long and from twenty to twenty-seven feet wide. The bridge will be of the latter width at intervals in order to allow disabled vehicles to be parked in such a way as not to interfere with traffic.

The bridge, also will carry electric telegraph and telephone lines, and gas mains. It is understood that bus lines will commence a regular service between Baltimore and Eastern Shore towns when the span is completed.

Will Have Two Draws. The bridge will be of steel construction on concrete piles and will have two draws. One on the western side will be sixty feet wide to permit the passage of sailing vessels and small boats. The larger draw will be on the eastern side over the channel of the bay. It will be 260 feet wide, large enough to permit the passage of large ocean liners. The draws will be operated by electricity.

In the erection of the bridge all plans and specifications must be approved both by the State Roads Commission and the Public Service Commission. The road commission will check costs because at the end of twenty years the State has the option of buying the bridge on a cost basis. The Public Service Commission will check costs in order to determine a valuation on which to fix rates for use of the bridge.

MOTORISTS MUST GET ON COUNTY TAX BOOKS. Kent County motorists who fail to get on the tax books this year will find it impossible to obtain licenses for 1928. Under the new law, just passed, the Automobile Commissioner can issue tags only when the applicant is able to produce a receipt showing that State and county taxes have been paid.

Therefore, those who escape taxes will find it impossible to operate their cars next year. Motorists are being advised to see that they are properly assessed, and that they receive tax bills in September.

BROODER HOUSE & 300 CHICKS BURNED

Fire destroyed the incubator house on the Eliason farm tenanted by Linwood Sutton near town Tuesday night and with it were burned up 300 baby chicks and bushels of potatoes.

The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company responded to the alarm with truck No. 2 and confined the blaze to this one building.

After the incubator house fire had subsided and the firemen were ready to leave a slight blaze was discovered upon the roof of the dwelling house. It was extinguished with but little damage.

Fire burning a hole in the base of a kitchen range and igniting the floor in a colored home on Calvert street caused the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company to be called out Friday about 6 p. m. The house was occupied by Jesse Makel, colored. Before the arrival of the fire engine the blaze had been extinguished by neighbors.

Coach Tom Kibler made all the baskets for the married men and Harry Russell was the star performer for the single men with Richard Collins and Chas. Kibler good side partners. Capt. Jack Carroll was the referee and the most remarkable fact about the game was that not a foul was called during the whole game.
