DAVE KENDALL CAUSED UNEASINESS IN STORM

Following a long search by his family and other residents of Chestertown, David B. Kendall, rural mail carrier, was found at Will Hazell's farmhouse in Queen Anne's county, where he took refuge in the blinding snow storm that swept this section of the Eastern Shore Saturday afternoon and night. Mr. Kendall had been in the adjoining county on official business and was returning home when the storm came up. The State highway was quickly blocked by huge snow drifts so he turned back and sought shelter at the nearest farm. His family, receiving no message from him, notified local police who at once began a search and found him snug in bed at Mr. Hazell's. He explained that there was no telephone at the farmhouse, which was completely surrounded by heavy drifts and that there was no way for him to notify family and friends.

AN OLD TIME SNOW STORM VISITED KENT SATURDAY LAST

DUCKERS MAROONED ON EAST NECK ISLAND RESCUED BY AIR PLANES—15 INCHES OF SNOW COVERS THE EARTH—MERCURY DROPS TO NEAR ZERO—STATE ROAD FORCE OPENS ROADS QUICKLY—RECORD SINCE 1899.

A terrific snow storm began in Kent early Saturday morning and kept up all day and late into the night. Business was at a stand-still for several days and stories of other days retold. There was at least 15 inches of snow on the ground and in some places it drifted to banks measuring five to eight feet high. The mercury dropped to 12 degrees on Saturday and Sunday and hovered about zero Monday. Superintendent Shure with scores of men opened the roads leading into Chestertown in quick time and travel was resumed from Elkton to Chestertown Monday evening and from Rock Hall to Chestertown.

Mail driver Hogans made his trip Monday morning to Rock Hall. Frank Parsons walked from East Neck Island to Rock Hall on Saturday requiring eight hours. Roger Williams and S. G. Caldwell, of near Galena, walked several miles in the storm their cars having been stalled. The Kent train made its regular trips Saturday and Sunday was only two hours late.

CENTREVILLE TRAIN STALLED IN SNOW

Twenty-three passengers had an anxious time Saturday afternoon when the train leaving Centreville at 3.35 p. m. for Wilmington and points north ran into a snow bank at Brick Yard Curve three miles from there and remained stalled until 8.54 at night, when the engine was dug out and the train proceeded on its way. As it had missed connections at Townsend, Del., with the regular train which is was supposed to place its through car, the train continued to Wilmington.

Early Sunday morning the railroad officials sent one of the snow plows of the Delaware Division down the Centreville branch and broke the drifts. The plow was then sent over the Chestertown branch but before it reached Chestertown a heavy wind again came up and the cut at Brick Yard Curve was filled with snow. When the train in charge of Engineer J. F. Cowgill and Conductor James Coverdale struck the drift the engine was unable to drive its way thru.

Word was sent to Clayton and a special train of workmen was sent to the place to dig out the stalled train. Before this work was completed a second train was ordered but before it reached there the train broke its way out with the assistance of the workmen sent and proceeded on its way.

The passengers were comfortable during their five hour's wait as the steam heat was kept up and they were comfortable though, of course anxious as to when they would get out. Some secured something to eat from houses close by. There was no complaint on the part of the passengers who were held by the snow.

DUCKERS RESCUED BY PLANE

While three snowbound duck-hunters were rescued Monday from Eastern Neck Island, Kent county, by airplanes from Logan Field, D. C., six Baltimoreans remained marooned on the island, but got out of their predicament Tuesday. The rescue was made by three airplane trips to the island. The rescued were Temple N. Joyce, of Baltimore; Capt. Emory F. Land, assistant chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics of the navy, and James Torbert, Washington. The rescue work was conducted by Major Wm. D. Tipton, commander of the Maryland National Guard Air Service, Mr. Joyce and flyers from Anacostia.

Ollie Estes and Edw. Smith undertook to come home last Saturday from Rehoboth. They arrived here Monday after spending two days at a farm house near Harrington. There were three other men marooned at the farm.

Dr. W. Weaver and wife, of near Betterton, were caught in the snow storm Saturday night near Locust Grove and were compelled to spend the night in their automobile. This splendid sleighing snow saw but few enjoying the sport. A snow like it a few years ago would have brought out on the streets hundreds of "races" varying in speed from 2.10 to 10 minutes. Times sure have changed!

HOW TIMES HAVE CHANGED!

Kent News Gets Letter From Wickcliffe Farm On Eastern Neck Island By Air Plane Via Washington, D. C.

In another column* of this issue may be found an interesting account of how gunners reached their homes in Washington by airplane from Nelson Stevens' farm on Eastern Neck Island. The tenant on this farm is John Frank Usilton. He seems to have a fondness for island homes having tenanted Poole's Island for many years, then on Parsons' Island near Queenstown and now on Eastern Neck Island.

He writes to the Kent News about the snowstorm and the rescue of the duckers by air plane and the letter reaches us by way of plane to Washington thence by train to Chestertown. He writes as follows: "Well, at last there has been an aerial route for gunners to and from Wickliffe farm to Baltimore and Washington. Our men are snow-bound on the island and are flying away today. Several machines are flying back and forth to Washington and Baltimore taking the men off the island. One required only 30 minutes for each trip to Washington and 15 minutes to Baltimore. The mercury registered 10 degrees below zero and the snow is piled up ten feet high. All roads blocked for 10 miles. I refused to take a trip in the plane. Cold enough on the earth. I'll wait until summer."

DR. FRANCIS T. LITTLE ILL

Dr. Francis T. Little, 78 years old, president of the board of trustees of Western Maryland College, is seriously ill at his home 1314 Linden avenue. He suffered an attack of heart distaste last Monday. Dr. Little was formerly pastor of Christ M. P. Church here, where he has a host of friends. Dr. Little was retired from the active ministry seven years ago. His last pastorate was the Evergreen Church on Cedar avenue near Oakdale road. Since 1920, in addition to his duties in connection with the college, he has been writing for the Methodist Protestant.

ROTARY BACKS BOYS' WEEK IN KENT COUNTY

President Paul E. Titworth, of Washington College, chairman of the education committee of the local Rotary Club, presided at the regular weekly meeting of the club, a feature of which was the laying of plans for the annual Boys' Week program to be put on by the organization in the near future as a part of the work of the boys' committee, headed by J. Thomas Kibler, coach at Washington College.

It is difficult to estimate the value of the fine work being accomplished by Coach Kibler among the young boys of the town and county through the medium of educational and athletic instruction received at the weekly meetings of the boys held in the college gymnasium. John N. Mackall, chairman of the State Roads Commission, is scheduled to address the club at the meeting next Monday.

Dollar Day in Wilmington

Wilmington merchants will hold their Spring Dollar Day on February 8, under the auspices of the Mercantile Section of the Chamber of Commerce. Practically every merchant in the city is cooperating toward making this the largest merchandising event of the year. Official Dollar Day cards, which are of a distinctive color and bear the emblem of the Chamber of Commerce, will be displayed by the participating merchants and are the shoppers' guide to merchants of the Chamber of Commerce. See advt. on page 6.

C. C. Ivens killed a 9-pound wild goose on his Buck Neck farm Friday. On its leg was a silver band inscribed as follows: "Write Box 48, Kingsville, Ontario, Canada. God is Light. 1 John 1-5, F 25." Thus is the gospel being carried in ways but few ever dreamed about.

Thieves broke into A. Paris' Department Store at Sandy Bottom on Wednesday night last and carried off some small change and a number of blankets, watch, harness, etc. The officers are after them.

The Bay Bridge is still waiting action by the Government. A decision is looked for this month.

KENT COUNCIL HOLD MEETING

The Kent County Council for Home Demonstration Work held their first meeting for the year 1928 at the Firemen's Hall, Friday, January 27, it being Achievement Day.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Hugh Hartman acting as president in the absence of Mrs. D. W. Ingersoll. Mrs. Wm. Knight acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Walter Wirtz.

The minutes of the last meeting of the County Council, which was held in November at the Court House, were read and approved. The Rock Hall Club scored best in their club work and were awarded $5 as the prize. Then a discussion of the prizes were held. A motion was made and seconded that $5 be awarded as first prize and $2 as second prize for the best score of the different clubs throughout the county this year. Motion was made and carried that the County Council donate $10 from their treasury towards the Ambulance Fund. The next business was the election of officers which will be held in April. It was voted that the nominations be from the floor.

Miss Schellinger, Home Demonstration Agent, had a chart hanging upon the wall showing January membership, and in November she intends to show each club's score. She is willing to give any help which is needed in her work if you will call at her office at the Court House.

Roll call of each club that was present:

	Morning	Afternoon
Chestertown	4	9
Fairlee	1	4
Flatland	5	5
Quaker Neck	0	0
Neighborhood Club	1	3
Quaker Neck Com	0	0
Swan Creek	0	4
Rock Hall	8	11

Mrs. Harry T. Williams gave a wonderful talk which was enjoyed and applauded by all present on the General Betterment of the Farm Organization. The women's part was to be a help not a hindrance. The wife should urge the farmer on not discourage the man. She should push, pull or kick the man (her husband) out to attend the Farm Bureau meetings. The ladies were given the chance to ask questions of Mrs. Williams work. One question asked was on the cooperative plan of buying and selling.

The Flatland Women's Club put on a play called the "Lunch Box" which was very good. The "Beauty Parlor" was given by the Rock Hall Women's Club with the help of Miss Betty Amos, in the absence of some of their members, and a good many good points were gotten out of the play for the use of vegetables, one for example, if more carrots and beets were eaten, rouge and lipstick would not have to be bought and used.

The afternoon meeting was called to order at 1.30 p. m. The ladies who attended the Women's Rural Short Course at College Park June 13 to 18, 1927, were asked to stand up. Mrs. Clarence Thompson, Mrs. Joe Viskovitch, Miss Helen Schellinger, Mrs. George A. Caroll, Mrs. Frank Urie, Mrs. Wm. O. B. Knight. All were present with the exception of Mrs. Urie, who was spending the afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Barnett, who met with an auto accident sometime ago.

Swan Creek Women's Club gave a demonstration "The Health Babies". The twin girls of Mrs. Walter Kenley were shown. They were two sweet little girls. Miss Betty Amos, of the Philadelphia Inter-State Dairy Council gave a talk on "Putting Pep in Your Motor." She compared the body to an auto. The four high testing fuels that must be used often and plentiful were: First, fruit; 2nd, vegetables; 3rd, milk; 4th, water. Question was asked should meat be in a child's diet. Miss McPheeters answered by saying at the age of seven (7) years was time enough to begin giving meat to a child. Bananas also were asked, if ripe good, but unless ripe not good.

Awarding of prizes by Miss Margaret McPheeters, State Nutrition Specialist, were as follows: Whole Wheat Bread—Mrs. Wilbur Morris, first; Mrs. Hugh Hartman, 2nd.

White Bread, using Rose Bud Flour—Mrs. L. A. Sutton, 1st; Mrs. Wilbur Morris, 2nd; Mrs. Fowler, 3rd; Mrs. Carroll, 4th. Fruits—Mrs. Wilbur Morris, 1st; Mrs. Geo. Carroll, 2nd; Mrs. Hugh Hartman, 3rd.

Vegetables—Miss Louisa Travers, 1st; Mrs. Wilbur Morris, 2nd; Mrs. Sutton and Mrs. Fowler, tie. Menu—Mrs. Ashley, 1st; Mrs. D. W. Ingersoll, 2nd.

MRS. G. A. CARROLL, Sec. j
