McCORMICK-DEERING Manure Spreader

NEW DESIGN—NEW FEATURES

EVERY convenience that could possibly be built into a mechanical spreading unit has been embodied in the construction of the new McCormick-Deering. With a carrying capacity of from 57½ to 67½ bushels the box is built low which permits easy loading.

The levers on both sides of the spreader are within convenient reach of the operator. The left hand lever controls the spreading mechanism and the right hand lever controls the operation of the conveyor a six different speeds. The seat swings back while loading and the narrow width of the spreader allows ready passage through the average barn doors or field gates.

There are eight roller bearings, two on the axle, two on each of the upper and lower beaters, and two on the widespread shaft. This feature provides light-running and reduces wear to a minimum.

The box is wider at the rear than at the front thus preventing the load from wedging against the sides. The upper beater is set forward of the lower one so they don't dig into the load at once when starting. Two steel beaters and a widespread spiral insure perfect pulverization and uniform spreading beyond the rear wheels.

Six conveyor speeds permit placing more or less manure on certain spots as desired. The driver can instantly regulate the quantity of flow while the spreader is in operation. The short wheelbase, tracking of the front and rear wheels, and the auto-steer front truck makes the McCormick-Deering a strong, durable, light-draft spreader.

Top Dress Your Wheat

If there ever was a spring when wheat needed a top dressing, it is this one.

As a rule wheat fields are green by the middle of March—but not this year.

We have made up a special brand for top dressing wheat, and it is made of such materials that are adapted to this crop as well as the grass crop that follows.

We recommend using a ton to ten acres, so a good idea is try a few tons and mark it off and see for yourself.

FOR CORN

Use our Special Corn Fertilizer. Corn is a good price; you fertilize your wheat why not your corn as it requires plant food as well as any other crop.

ASPARAGUS FERTILIZER

We also have ready for immediate delivery to your barn an Asparagus Fertilizer that makes it grow faster as well as increases the shoots from the crowns, which makes this a very good investment. We recommend one ton to the acre.

Phone 20 and your goods will be delivered the same day you call.
