DEATHS

Mrs. Harriett Reed McWhorter, wife of George W. McWhorter, died at her home on Park avenue Thursday morning after a long illness aged 63. She leaves a husband, one daughter, Mrs. Cora McWhorter Green; a sister, Mrs. Robert Moffett and two brothers, Horace Reed and Dan Reed, Washington, D. C.

The deceased is kindly remembered by a large circle of friends and her devotion to the church and home will ever remain a pleasant memory to loved ones. The funeral will take place at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment in Chester Cemetery. Rev. J. Harry Wright officiating; Wm. T. Hicks, undertaker.

The bearers will be Calvin Cooper, Horace Reed, Dan Reed, Robert Moffett, Alonza L. Sterling and Robert E. Green.

William F. Anderson passed away in Baltimore, Tuesday evening, in his 56th year. He had been a resident of Baltimore for 25 years. Mr. Anderson is survived by one sister, Mrs. Wm. F. Sykes, of Betterton.

The remains were brought to Betterton Thursday evening and rested in the M. E. Church. Services were held Friday afternoon at 2 P. M. Rev. Mr. Hopkins officiated, assisted by Rev. Mr. Stone; interment Still Pond Cemetery; B. R. Fellows, undertaker. The pall bearers were Spencer Boland, John Boland, Albert Jervis, Lemuel Hickman, Leonard Price, W. N. Hurluck.

Dr. Alfred Pearce Dennis, Nationally prominent Princess Anne Citizen ex-member of the faculty of Princeton University, Smith College, and Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., and a member of the United States Tariff Commission, drowned himself in the waters of Casco Bay, near Bailey Island, Maine, Saturday, where the Princess Anne man had been spending the summer months with his family.

Despondency, due to ill health, is thought to have caused the Marylander to take his life. No hint of the impending tragedy had been given by Dr. Dennis, and his death was discovered by members of the family Saturday morning, when they arose, and found Dr. Dennis missing. Dr. Dennis was very favorably known in Chestertown having been a guest speaker at Washington College where he gave a learned address. He was also honored with a degree by Washington College.

Mrs. Alice Blades will sell her furniture next Saturday on Kent Circle and remove to Middletown on North Broad street.
