Farmers Hit Hard Milk Price Reduced

Because of the serious condition which exists in cities among unemployed the price of milk will be reduced one cent per quart effective September 1st.

Beginning on this date housewives in the city will be able to buy milk at 11 cents per quart and six cents per pint instead of the previous price of 12 cents per quart.

The decision to reduce the price was reached Tuesday in the offices of the Inter-State Milk Producers' Association, Inc., at 219 N. Broad street, Philadelphia.

The association, according to its president, H. D. Allebach, handles only Grade B milk, but he explained that the price of Grade A milk would be automatically reduced since its price is regulated by the price of Grade B milk.

At present Grade A varies between 14 and 15 cents per quart. After September 1, it will vary between 13 and 14 cents per quart.

The producers and distributors met Monday, discussing business conditions in the industry. The decision to reduce was reached at the meeting.

The Kent farmer will take a loss of two-thirds of a cent per quart and the distributors, one-third. This refers only to retail prices. Instead of receiving 7.1 cents per quart, the farmer will receive 6.4 cents. It amounts to a reduction of 33 cents per 100 pounds of milk.

This will leave the price of milk to the producers in this vicinity as high as the surrounding territories, while the price to the consuming public is now lower than any large city in the East.

"In New York, the farmer gets less for his milk than Philadelphia, while the retail price is 14 cents a quart. In Washington it is also 14 cents, while in Chicago it is 13 cents. In Baltimore and Pittsburgh it is 12 cents, said Allebach.

Chestertown dealers are charging 13 cents per quart. They are considering a reduction.

CARL M. LeCates, engineer of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company, who represented the local unit at the school last year, and probably another Chestertown fire-fighter will attend the short course for volunteer firemen to be conducted at the University of Maryland, at College Park, on September 2, 3 and 4.

The program for the short course includes demonstrations of fire fighting by the Baltimore Fire Department, talks on volunteer departments, the care of apparatus, salvage methods and motion pictures on fire prevention.

LOCAL BUYERS
were paying 15 cents for best grade tomatoes yesterday. The offerings were limited, rains having damaged crops severely. Wheat was quoted at 41 cents. Many farmers have their wheat in field and sprouting has begun.

THE net receipts from Rock Hall Carnival were $1700. Fine.

THE storm Sunday played havoc with church services Sunday. At the two Methodist Churches there was one man who entered each church and at the P. E. Church there were four present, three of whom were ladies.

JOHN "TOTS" Hadaway joined the Barnett Bros. Show at Elkton last week and will assist in the side show. There have been three shows on the Peninsula but all skipped Chestertown notwithstanding John S. Vandegrift's plea to pay a visit to Kent.

FIREMEN'S CARNIVAL NOW GOING ON

The Carnival at Chestertown by the Volunteer Fire Co. began last night (Friday) and will continue until Monday, Sept. 7.

The object of the Carnival is to make money to run the Chestertown Fire Co.

Any help you can give will be appreciated.

CARNIVAL BEGAN HERE LAST NIGHT

The annual community festival of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Co. beginning last Friday night and continuing for eight nights, is expected to draw many visitors from the upper tier of Delmarva Peninsula counties and scores of fire companies, ladies' auxiliaries, American Legion troops and Boy Scout organizations who have been invited to participate in special events to feature each day of the carnival.

An automobile and float parade was to be staged Friday night with prizes offered for the best decorated machines. The following night, Boy Scout and Camp Fire Girls troops from Kent and nearby counties will parade with fire and drum corps of the various Scout troops. Loving cups will be awarded as prizes.

The night of Tuesday, September 1, the first annual pajama parade for girls will be held. Ladies' auxiliaries of fire companies in Delaware and on Maryland's Eastern Shore have been invited by Mrs. Jesse Blakeney, president of the local auxiliary, to send appropriately attired girls in beach pajamas to take part in the pageant. Among the entries are a family of five Smith sisters in Chestertown.

The following night will be American Legion Night and troops, together with bugle and drum corps, will parade for special good prizes. Legionnaires of Baltimore and Wilmington have been asked to take part with $100 in prizes on the usual terms.

It is expected that at least twenty companies, with part of their fire-fighting equipment, will be on parade from Delaware and the Eastern Shore on Thursday night. This is known as Firemen's Night.

The entire affair will be held in the civic square here which will be set aside by City Council for that purpose. Proceeds will go to the firemen's fund.

Fred S. Russell is chairman of the executive committee in charge of the festival. Other members of that body are: W. L. Fowler, George Pennington, H. C. Hughes, E. Scott Thompson, P. M. Brooks, Carl LeCates, John E. Matthews, Harvey Blyman, W. H. Thawley, Foster Brown, R. H. Collins, Jr., Wm. G. Smyth, W. J. Smith, Ben Hessey, W. H. Elliott, Herman Blackway, L. G. Brown, Harry Fowler, Lawrence P. Strong, Clarence M. Newcomb, W. D. Flowers, Curtis Perry, T. H. Wood, R. C. Davis, Howard Pennington, Mrs. Jessie Blackney and Mrs. W. H. Thawley.

SHOOT AT BETTERTON

In a three-cornered shoot held on Wednesday over the traps of the Betterton Gun Club, in the weekly affair John Owens, of Dover, and Elmer Atwell, of Still Pond and Betterton, broke 80 per cent of their moving targets. William Moore, of Dover, Harvey Moore, secretary of the local club and Clarence Newsome, of Betterton, tied for second place with a mark of 70 per cent. Other scores follow: W. S. Owens and John Massey, Dover, John Crew and James Owens, Betterton, 60 per cent; Leroy Owens, Dover, and John Brice, Betterton, 50 per cent.

DUCK HUNTING CUT TO 30 DAYS

The open season on duck and other migratory wild fowl in Maryland was curtailed to a period of thirty days by the President's approval of a recommendation by Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture and chief of the Geological Survey.

Not only sportsmen, but hundreds of Marylanders who earn a livelihood as guides and from renting boats and blinds to sportsmen during the duck-shooting season will be affected by the shortening of the season.

The open season in Maryland, Delaware and Virginia, under the proclamation amending the migratory bird treaty act regulations will be from November 16 to December 15, inclusive. No additions to bag limits prescribed in last year's regulations under the migratory bird treaty act were made for the 1931 season.

The action taken by the Government rejects the recommendations of E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden for Maryland, who, in a statement a week ago, opposed curtailment of the entire season, but advocated a three-day-a-week shooting season from November 16 to January 15, inclusive, and also recommended that the use of pump and automatic shotguns be prohibited unless adjusted so they would hold no more than two shells at a single loading.

FIRE NEAR ROCK HALL

Lightning struck the big barn on the Hynson farm on Swan Point early yesterday morning and burned it to the ground together with a fine lot of hay. A calf and two mules were burned so badly that they died. Rock Hall Fire Co. did valiant work.

LOCAL BUYERS

were paying 15 cents for best grade tomatoes yesterday. The offerings were limited, rains having damaged crops severely. Wheat was quoted at 41 cents. Many farmers have their wheat in field and sprouting has begun.

THE net receipts from Rock Hall Carnival were $1700. Fine.

THE storm Sunday played havoc with church services Sunday.

JOHN "TOTS" Hadaway joined the Barnett Bros. Show at Elkton last week and will assist in the side show.

THE Edgar Moffett farm of 310 acres between Chesterville and Millington has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Moffett for $6,100.

THE Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company's Band, Prof. A. C. Bacon, leader, won the prize for best band and best appearance at North East Wednesday night.

A MERITED HONOR

One event in connection with the recent regatta which had no connection with the water sports and yet was very important was the presentation of a gold wrist watch, suitably engraved, to Claude E. Truslow, chairman of the Greens Committee of golf course. The watch was the gift of the golfing members of the club and presented in appreciation of the untiring efforts of Mr. Truslow in connection with the golf course.

The presentation speech was made by State's Attorney Stephen R. Collins, past president of the Club in a most befitting manner as usual with him. Since three years ago Mr. Truslow has donated generously of his time and material toward the conditioning and maintenance of the golf course. The fact that the course is second to none on the Eastern Shore, after such a short period of existence, speaks highly of Mr. Truslow's work.

SUPERINTENDENT of Schools Louis C. Robinson announced today that all white schools in Kent county will open September 9 and on the preceding day a general conference of all white teachers will be held at Chestertown High School with the superintendent presiding. Registration day will be held September 9 and the Garnet Colored High School here will open the same day. Colored elementary schools will open September 28th.

Arthur Greenwood, who has been dividing his time as manual arts teacher between Rock Hall and Millington high schools, has been named a regular member of the Chestertown High School faculty to relieve Principal Owen C. Blades who has been heading that department here. Prof. Greenwood has rented the Hartman apartment, next door to school.

KENT COUNTY HIT BY STORM

Easterly storms prevailed over this section Friday, Saturday and Sunday paralyzed business of all kinds and endangered travel on all roads. Prices of fruits and vegetables dropped to a low level at all shipping points, the torrential rains damaging these communities badly.

The storms reached their height Saturday night and Sunday morning, where there was a veritable cloud-burst. The rains have practically brought the cantaloupe season to an end, have injured tomatoes, laid corn low and have damaged the peach crop.

The storms also played havoc with the Regatta.

Motorists coming down the peninsula to spend the last week-end were caught in the storm, and in many instances compelled to abandon their cars and seek shelter wherever they could. Small trees were down and debris covered many of the by-roads.

No damage has been reported to shipping along the county waterfront. Many sail boats and launches anchored in Chester River following Saturday's regatta weathered the gale.

The extension of the clubhouse pier proved a great protection to some 15 vessels tied in the slips.

Notwithstanding the unusually heavy down-pour of rain which fell for practically three days some farmers are complaining of a shortage of water in their wells.

THE ladies of Salem M. E. Church, Fairlee, evidenced their ability on Thursday evening in over-coming all obstacles by making a success of their plate supper. It was to have been held on Tilghman Hudson's lawn and all tables were set and lights provided when a storm came and plans were quickly changed to hold same in the splendid home of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson. All enjoyed the evening and a fine supper served promptly.

THE sale of Herbert Lushy's personality Thursday was largely attended and good prices realized. Live hogs brought 9 cents per pound.

MOORE than 1,000 Kent countians will be restored to profitable (?) employment next Tuesday morning, when the oyster tanning season opens, creating work for tongers and shuckers.

This army of bivalve handlers will immediately create a new weekly payroll.

For several weeks watermen have been busily engaged in getting their boats, tongers and other equipment in readiness for the season's opening, and packers also have been preparing for shucking operations.
