Woman Killed, R. Hill Escaped

Robert R. Hill, well-known citizen of Kennedyville, while driving his truck Monday afternoon met with a serious accident. He had picked up enroute to Kennedyville Gussie Caulk, aged 55, of Big Woods, for a ride and she was killed. The truck collided with a work train on the Pennsylvania Railroad at the Kennedyville crossing. The truck and the train were moving at a slow rate of speed when the collision occurred. When Mr. Hill saw the train he is said to have swerved his truck to avoid the crash. The collision was almost averted but the engine just sidwiped the automobile where the post on which the automatic bell hung. The colored woman, well-known around Kennedyville, was thrown from the truck to the road. She suffered a crushed chest and died while enroute to the hospital in a local ambulance. A coroner's jury, of which William Hague was foreman, investigated the accident under the direction of Coroner Dr. H. L. Dodd and brought a verdict of an unavoidable accident with reservations. State's Attorney Collins was also present and assisted in the case.

Crazy Man Runs Colored Preacher

Rev. Wm. H. Mullen, the colored pastor of James M. E. Church, had an unusual experience Tuesday morning when called upon by one of his loyal members, Israel Clark. It was about 9 o'clock when Israel called upon the preacher on Queen street and first struck him on side of head and then he was going to kill him. The parson saw that the man was not in his right mind and he was not in his right mind that he was not in his right mind. The crazed man followed. Up the railroad track to Cross street the two ran at a fast pace. The preacher was somewhat heavy on his feet but Israel was ever 70 and could not run quite as fast as the pursued, but it proved to be a close race. Rev. Mullen told his member to the jail where he was taken in charge. Israel was released the next day and has no recollection of what took place.

REMOVE MURDER CASE IN KENT

Owen Knotts, of Denton, and W. Mason Shehan, of Easton, counsel for Constable Glanville Downes, of Ridge, Caroline county, charged with the killing of Arthur Wooters, at Cordova, Talbot county, in March, asked the court, which is in session in Easton, the privilege of removing the case to Chestertown on the grounds that they did not feel Downes could get a fair and impartial trial in Talbot county. The court granted the request of the attorneys. This makes two murder cases to be heard here in October.

Regatta Members At Mrs. Raskob's

Tuesday night, May 26th, the committee in charge of arrangements for the Chester River Annual Regatta were guests of Mrs. J. J. Raskob at her delightful home at Pioneer Point. Nowhere could a more inspiring spot be found for a meeting of this kind. Directly in front of the Raskob mansion was moored "Patsy," one of the most beautiful yachts that ever sailed the Chesapeake Bay. It was "The Patsy," sailed by J. J. Raskob in a northeast gale that won the Official Championship of Chesapeake Bay last August, covering the twenty mile triangle in just a shade over two hours—a record that will probably stand for a number of years. The meeting that followed a very enjoyable dinner was active from the time that Neal A. Truslow, Chairman, took the chair. The race program was discussed in detail and approved unanimously by the committee. Among the outstanding features of this two days' program is the big bay race scheduled for Friday, August 21st, and the Star race which will be sailed at the same time. Immediately following these two races a handicap race to anchorages for both sail and motor boats will start. The sail boats finish at Spaniards Point directly opposite the Raskob estate, while the cruisers and motor boats continue to Chestertown and finish in front of the club house. Friday evening a big fireworks display arranged to provide entertainment for the visitors and their friends. Included in those present at the dinner which is the committee in charge of the Chester River Regatta, held under the auspices of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club were the following: Neal A. Truslow, Thomas W. Perkins, P. Meiford Brooks, H. Clay Brown, J. P. Corcoran, James G. Metcalfe, Simon W. Westcott, W. Dorsey Hines, Thomas Massey, Phillip G. Wilmer, Stephen R. Collins, R. Hynson Rogers, Tilghman H. Moyer, Capt. E. W. Emory, Col. I. Price Ewing, Eben F. Perkins. In Section Two of the KENT NEWS today will be found the detail program for the Regatta.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

John F. Crae, Canadian, and alumnus of Johns Hopkins school of medicine, died of pneumonia, January 1918, after serving two years in charge of the medical Division of the McGill Canadian General Hospital during the World War, his volume, In Flanders Fields, appearing posthumously, in 1919. Few who read the title poem of his book, possibly the most widely-read poem produced by the war, realize that it is a perfect rondeau, one of the loveliest (and strictest) of the French forms. In Flanders fields the poppies grow Between the crosses, row on row. That mark our place; and in the sky The larks, still bravely singing, fly Scarce heard amid the guns below. We are the Dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved, and now we lie In Flanders fields. Take you our quarrel with the foe; To you from falling hands we throw The torch; be yours to hold it high. If ye break faith with us who die We shall not sleep, though poppies grow In Flanders fields.

TAX SALES

Treasurer Newsome only had to offer 68 places at tax sale Tuesday out of several hundred which were in default. There were 30 bought in by the County Commissioners and 38 by individuals. The 3-acre tract assessed to Gus Royal at the College created considerable interest and was finally struck off to Mrs. Elizabeth McKenny for $405. Any of this property may be redeemed within a year by paying 15 per cent interest.

FINAL HEARING

FINAL hearing was held in Wilmington Wednesday by Chancellor Wolcott on two bills filed against the F. H. Smith Company, of Washington and New York, one seeking the appointment of a receiver and the other asking that the charter of the bonding concern be revoked. Several ladies from Kent were interested. It is said that Kent countians have over $100,000 invested with this concern.

Dr. Errol Fox and wife entertained at supper the Blue Key, of Washington College, at their home on Water street Thursday evening. There were 13 at the table.

THE OYSTER SEASON

Lest We Forget Memorial Day

The greatness of their deeds shall never be forgotten. Theirs was the sacrifice which sustained and kept clear the principle of liberty for our nation. No more fitting holiday is on our national calendar. Let us all pause for a thoughtful moment and be grateful for the freedom that is ours. In so doing we cannot fail to give place and honor to the brave soldiers who made the supreme sacrifice for us.

WILL OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY

Plans for a fitting observance of Memorial Day in Chestertown have been announced by J. Thomas Kibler, commander of the Frank M. Jarman Post 36 American Legion which will sponsor the program. In addition to the annual parade and memorial service at the Chester Cemetery the local American Legion unit has arranged for an air circus to be staged at the Chestertown Airport on Saturday and Sunday.
