Transplanter What a Rotary Hoe can do for

Perhaps the greatest use of the Rotary Hoe is in the breaking of surface crusts and the killing of weed seedlings before and after the crop is planted. With a Rotary Hoe you can give your crops an early start and keep weeds from gaining a foothold.

And you can do it much faster and far better than can ever be done by shovel cultivation. The numerous pulverizing teeth or fingers penetrate to a uniform depth and thoroughly stir the surface soil. A Rotary Hoe can be used without damage to the crop until the plants reach a height of 8 or 10 inches, and even higher under favorable condi-

room to grow, saves time and labor. The New Idea way of planting so closely approaches natural conditions, few plants are lost, growth begins immediately and crops mature sev eral days earlier than those set by other methods.
