DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR COMPTROLLER: MARION DEKALB SMITH, OF KENT COUNTY.

Election Tuesday, November 7th, 1893.

To the Polls!

Democrats! don't fail to be at the polls NEXT TUESDAY. Do your whole duty, and as there are in the Prohibition party, and in every respect. that is to see that a FULL VOTE is polled. Our candidates were all fairly nominated all parties. If any one of these political and they are justly entitled to every Democratic vote. There never has been a ticket nominated that fully met the expectation or desires of all, and there never will be such a ticket. We submit our claims to the people in primary meeting and the majority make the ticket. It is a right and Only a fanatic, or crank, will dispute this duty thus to do. A Few Closing Words.

Campaign falsehoods generally find free circulation on the eve of every election. . They are plentiful in Kent this year. Some persons who ought to have more charity reports of misconduct on the part of a candidate and magnify it into a heinous crime Some persons do this thoughtlessly. They do not intend thus to wrong any one. But they do it, nevertheless. The victim's worst enemy could not more effectually damn him. Some want to accomplish this very thing. They would defeat his election, destroy his character and all his future hopes, to gain some petty personal end. But this class is small. Their villifications have very little weight. It is the goodthinking people who do the most harm by readily accepting rumors as truth and
