Its Doings.

The Maryland Legislature closed its sessions and adjourned at 12 o'clock last Monday night. The most important local legislation that we know of during the session was the following:

An act requiring an election in 1895 for a full board of county commissioners and fixing their pay at $400 per annum each. An Act to make the office of County Treasurer elective by the people, the first election to take place in 1895. An act to authorize public officers to
