HYATTSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL WINS OVER NINE READY SALISBURY FOR DIAMOND

Hyattsville, representing Prince George's County and Salisbury, of Wicomico County, met in the Washington College gymnasium last Friday evening in the semi-finals of the first state-wide high school basketball tournament staged by the Public Athletic League. Hyattsville was an easy winner by a 49 to 25 score and goes into the finals. Salisbury was the last of the Eastern Shore teams in the running.

The Hyattsville five presented a well coached unit and one of the finest guards seen on the local floor not excepting college players.

The superior team work, as well as better control of the ball when shooting at the basket, spelled victory for the Western Shore aggregation.

Wright, guard, and Taylor, center, were two basketball players that would be a big help to any college team in the state.

Salisbury had won the right to represent the Eastern Shore in the finals by handing Elkton a stiff beating in the Centreville armory on the Friday previous. Elkton had eliminated Chestertown the only other team in the race from the peninsula.

Will Fight For County Title Against Rock Hall And Galena

Chestertown High School baseball candidates are busy preparing for the coming season which will find them matching their baseball skill with Rock Hall and Galena in a series of contests to determine the championship of the county.

The winner in each county will play the winner from another and in this way the championship of the state will be decided. This is the same method used in soccer and basketball and the games are under the supervision of the Public Athletic League.

Candidates for the Chestertown nine will meet this afternoon to elect a captain and manager for this year's team. Prof. Mark Creasy will have the boys in charge. It is said that Roger Smoot, star of the Washington College diamond artists and the property of the St. Louis Cardinals, will give the local boys assistance along the coaching lines in his spare moments.

Hopes of the local school to annex the county title are bound up in their battery. Johnson, a southpaw from Kennedyville, is expected to bear the brunt of the mound duty, with Williams acting as his relief.

The catcher and batting star of the Chestertown nine is Hill, of Kennedyville. Young Hill is the son of Walker Hill, who in his younger days was one of the finest base ball players on the Del-Mar-Va peninsula.

A more complete story on the Chestertown team and stories on the Galena and Rock Hall nines will appear in The Enterprise within the next few weeks.

SPLASHES IN SPORTS By H. S. ARE

Basketball fans, after watching Jack Carroll and Dutch Dumschott perform for several years, last Thursday evening presented this famous duo with gold watches as tokens of regard.

If Jack and Dutch get as much from the watches as the fans have gotten from watching them they will have fine watches.

And watch Jack and Dutch. Now that they are finishing college they are just beginning.

This pair should raise some smoke. Watch for it.

It used to be that a football player could earn his laurels in the Fall and rest for the remainder of the year.

When Spring, beautiful Spring, rolled around the football players would snicker at the base ball men for having to spend the beautiful afternoons hours in practice.

Henry the Eighth is the catcher fat, And Henry was quite a catcher at that.

He was a Go Getter in his day, And caught six wives in his quaint old way.

Hamlet is pitcher and he wasn't slow, As you'd know when this Dane was deign to throw.

Romeo, shortstop, had speed and grace, And we choose fat old Falstaff to play first base.

We like small infielders, so we reckoned, We'd put young Richard the Third on second.

And just to make this a bit absurd, We'll choose brave Edward the Second for third.

Shylock, who kept his eyes well peeled, Would fill the bill out in centre field.

Old King Lear we would place in right, And the Ghost out in left would be out of sight.

You'd have to have an umpire, too, And we think that Mrs. Macbeth would do.

For one dark night, to thicken the plot, Didn't she holler, "Out, dam't spot."

Hurrah! The Profs are at fault again. A two-headed baby died after living three days. This does away with the theory that two heads are better than one.

"Here's where we roll the bones," offered the undertakers as they placed the coffin in the wagon.

"I'm in favor of light whines and sneers," insinuated the ritzy society gal.

"Not me," said her partner. "The wages of gin are death."

Returning to basketball. It is well that fans and supporters of the Washington five wait until the close of the season to fete the squad.

Three banquet dinners within a week might cause a little ruffle in the training.

The "Flying Pentagon" also claims the State Title as Champions of the Basketball Eating World.

Advice from the squad says that Graduate Manager W. R. Howell is coach of this branch of the sport. Colosanto is captain.

Joe Wheatley, Chestertown's Own, is jumping right and left in the checker world.

Finding that one man at a time cannot satisfy his coming appetite Wheatley takes them on four at a time.

He gets away with it, too.

Checkers, despite the claim of baseball supporters, is the national game of the Americans.

Jumping from one thing to another is one of the cardinal virtues of these wild Americans.

They also love to crown each other.

Chief: "You say the tracks of the criminal were well covered?"
Detective: "Yes; with about six inches of snow."

There was a young flapper named Bess,
Who looked a little different from the rest;
Her eyes were crossed
While her teeth were false,
But she was popular for two good reasons—I guess!

Mike: "That boxer is in the pink of condition."
Tyke: "Yes, he makes me see red."

"Down but not out," cried the convict as he lay on the ground inside the prison walls.

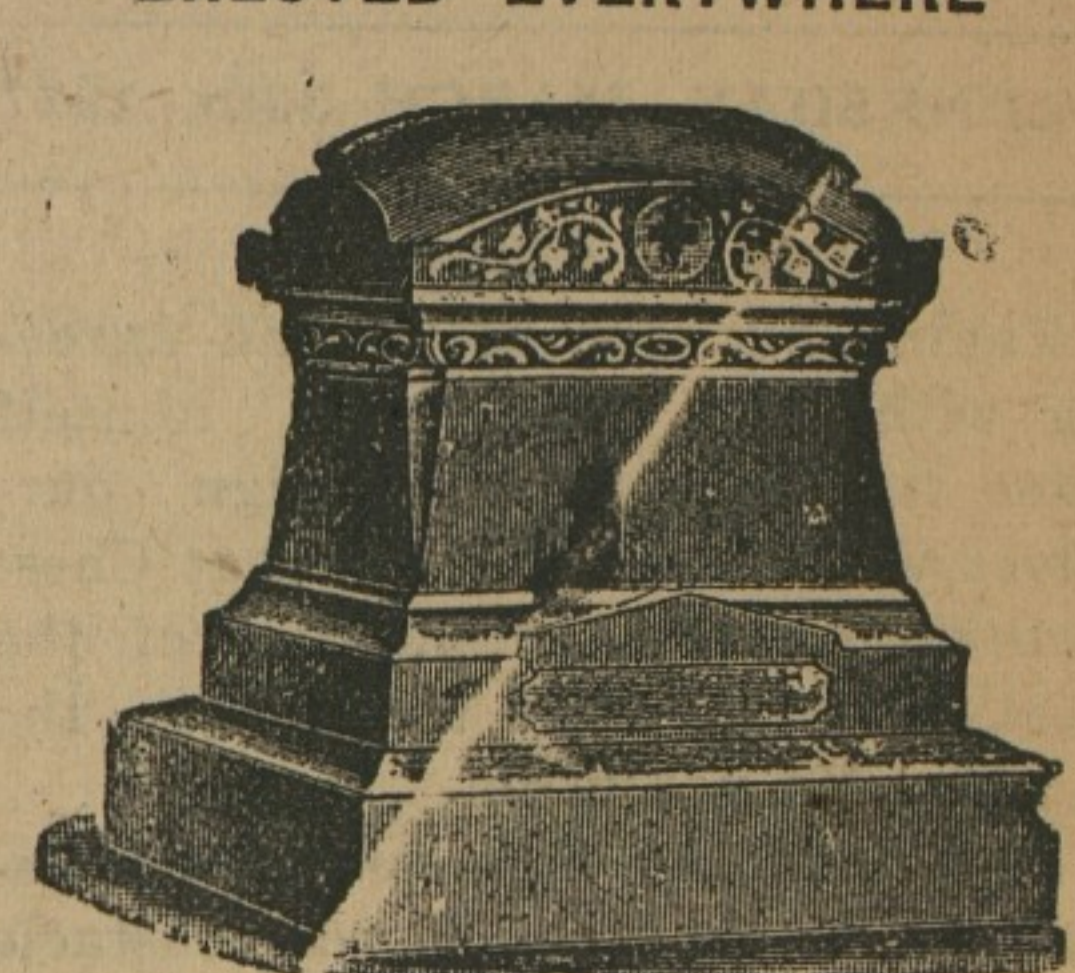

"Whither with the mask, Erronius?"
"To Mabel's house, Calculus."
"Then whyfore the mask?"
"Oh, her dad requested that I never show my face again in his house."

"I have a drag with the cop," said the man as he swapped cigarettes with the policeman.

Prof.: "Ever had Psychology?"
Stude: "No, only scarlet fever and bronchitis."

JOE WHEATLEY SETS CHECKER RECORD WIN

Chestertown, represented by Joseph N. Wheatley, defeated Sudlersville at checkers last week. In scoring a victory for the Kent town, Wheatley established what is thought to be a record for checker play on the Eastern Shore.

The local man won by playing four of Sudlersville's crack checker artists simultaneously. Of the sixteen games played Wheatley won 9, lost 3 and 4 were draw games.

The record follows:

Won	Drawn	Won
2 Wheatley 0 Stevens 2
2 Wheatley 1 Phillips 1
3 Wheatley 1 Nickerson 0
2 Wheatley 2 Metcalfe 0

In a group of single games played prior to the match contest Wheatley made the following score:

Won	Drawn	Won
5 Wheatley 1 Nickerson 0
3 Wheatley 0 Stevens 2

KIBBIES PREP FOR OPENING OF SEASON

When Schuylkill College sends its base ball team to Chestertown to open the season with Washington College on April 8, the lads from Reading, Pa., will face one of the best nines that the local college has boasted in several years.

With the curtain-raiser less than two weeks away, Coach Kibler is putting the final touches on the Washington nine.

Only two positions on the team remain in doubt. At second base Giriat and Seib are waging a merry battle for the right to defend the territory on the right hand side of the mid-way sack. Out in centre field Dumschott and Dopson are running a tight race. Dumschott, one of the cleverest fielders that has ever donned a Washington uniform has never been particularly impressive with the bat. Dopson, the youngster who made the basketball squad near the close of the season, seems to possess a fine batting eye. Dopson's oldest brother, Leslie, a former Washington College student, is the property of the Cleveland Indians of the American League.

Jacobs, catcher. Cavanaugh, first base. Jess, shortstop. Wright, third. Smoot, left and Mandrell, right, make up the rest of the nine that will probably see the most service in the coming campaign.

It is highly probable that Jack Carroll will be called upon to take the mound in the initial game of the season. However, Kibler will more than likely insert Bennett in the box before the end of the contest.

PENTAGON IS BANQUETED BY LOCAL FANS

With the Washington College varsity basketball squad and its coaches and managers as guests, nearly a hundred basketball fans enjoyed a banquet in honor of the "Flying Pentagon" last Thursday evening.

The banquet, which was sponsored by the Chestertown Rotary Club, was tendered the Washington College basketballers in appreciation of the pleasant hours of enjoyment they have given the fans this season just closed. Austin F. Shure, was chairman of the committee which had the banquet arrangements in charge.

The speakers of the evening were W. Frazier Russell, Jr., Owen F. Knotts, a prominent attorney from Denton, Major Lewis E. Lamborn, principal of the McDonough School, Baltimore, and Coach J. T. Kibler. Austin F. Shure acted as toastmaster.

Gold watches were presented to Jack Carroll and Dutch Dumschott by the fans. The presentation speech was made by Coach Kibler.

Captain Carroll, Dumschott and captain-elect Cavanaugh responded to toasts.

Varsity "Ws" were awarded to the following players: Captain Carroll, Dumschott, Cavanaugh, Carrington, Giriat, Dopson, Jacobs and Seib.

Music for the banquet was furnished by the Washington Collegions E. L. King, steward of Washington College, was the caterer and the banquet was served by the Triangle Club of Christ M. P. Church.
