Dr. Frank Crane Says

Opinions Are Like Ripples
Opinions are like ripples. How long they last depends upon the surface on which they appear. The mind of the individual who holds the opinion is the surface whose character determines its lasting quality.

Think over your friends. Some change their opinions continuously, others with great infrequency. You have seen many kinds or ripples—ripples on water, ripples on sand, ripples on ice, and ripple marks in solid limestone. All are duplicated in the minds of men. On water, ripples alter with each succeeding breath; in stone they change only with the erosion of years.

One type of mind is fluid; another concrete. The first is plastic but unretentive; the second is retentive but unchanging and indurate. One changes its opinions too frequently; the other not frequently enough.

In a general way these two characteristics of mind represent two stages of life. In youth the tendency is to change our opinions too often. In old age the tendency is to change them too seldom. Youth is a time for ripples on water. It is a time for alternating, changing open-mindedness, for a sort of sparrow-like hopping from one idea to another.

Opinions are formed, destroyed and re-formed with little effort. Old age is a time when the ripples of opinion seem marked in stone. They are fixed. They alter only after long erosion by contrary evidence.

Both attitudes are off balance. One leans too far forward, the other too far back. Between the two extremes is the happy man. Of the two attitudes the one that can be most controlled is that of solidity. Little can be done to change the attitude of the mind of youth, and it has time to steady down anyway.

But open-mindedness is a habit that can be cultivated. "A new truth is a truth and an old error is an error," is a good motto for advancing years.

Beauty And Health Lurk In Bath Tub

From the most ancient days to the present, men and women have believed in the beautifying as well as cleansing effects of water, and today it is generally agreed that health, cleanliness, beauty, and a well-groomed appearance requires at least one complete bath each day, while two are preferable—a warm and cool one.

A warm tub bath at night just before retiring, and in the morning a quick tub, sponge, or shower of cool or tepid water seems an ideal system. Twenty minutes is as long as any one should remain in the tub. Three minutes is long enough for the cool plunge in the morning.

Then, when you wish a particularly soothing, restful beauty bath to rest nerves and to give the sense to rest tired nerves and to give the sense of luxurious well-being so needed after a day in which everything went wrong; when you are completely exhausted, physically and nervously, you will find this most effective.

Turn on the water for a good hot bath, and while the room is steamy, anoint your face with a cleansing cream. Get into the tub with the cream on your face and let your body soak in the hot water for ten minutes by the clock. Have a clean cloth on hand to wipe your face free of cream before you turn on the shower. If you do not wish to get the hair wet, use a hand spray and pour cool water, not too cold, over the body. When you have thoroughly dried your body, a quick rub with 95 per cent grain alcohol will close the pores of your skin and complete the restful, bracing effect of your beauty bath.

Then jump into bed for ten minutes. Before you get into bed have a bowl of very warm water and a couple of tiny cotton pads. Dip the cotton into the water and lay a piece over each closed eyelid to relax the muscles. Just lie there and think yourself into as nearly a state of coma, mentally and physically, as you can. You will get up feeling fresh and rested, ready for anything the evening may bring.

YOUR BIRTHDAY
FEB. 13th—19th

If your birthday is this week you have a cool, calm, even disposition. You are quiet and deliberate, and never over-enthusiastic about anything. You are secretive and reserved, and have a great amount of self-control. You are courageous and persistent—and are, in fact, quite stubborn at times. You are a careful, methodical worker—capable and precise. Your plans are made with great judgment and accuracy, and you never jump at conclusions. You are honest, genuine, frank, and sympathetic. You are generous and affectionate—reliable and loyal.

You are very ambitious, and have talent in many directions. You can succeed in any line calling for continuity of thought, discrimination, and insight into human nature.

The women born during these dates become writers, welfare workers, musicians, and actresses. Men born during these dates become lawyers, judges, physicians, salesmen and mechanics.

Adelina Patti, singer, was born Feb. 19.
Cyrus Wakefeld was born Feb. 14.
