Dr. Frank Crane Says

No Need To Send Devil To Market

In a brochure recently got out at Antioch College, Ohio, reference is made to the custom of the old-time Shakers, who generally observed the laws of Christian brotherhood, of sending their most unscrupulous members out into the world to do their trading. Hence originated the saying that the Shakers always sent the devil to market.

The implication is that while Christian living and principles were suitable for ordinary affairs and in family life, they were not suitable for the outside world. There you had to fight the devil with fire and deal unscrupulously with unscrupulous people.

A very common idea is that those people get along best in this world who do not strictly adhere to the moral law. You have to be crooked enough to get along and yet not crooked enough to fall afoul of the law.

Those who are old and experienced in this world's dealing know the fallacy of this reasoning.

The fact is that it pays to be honest—to be honest in little things as well as in big, and to be honest in the privacy of your chamber as well as in the open forum of the market.

Honesty is not a thing to be put on and off and to be used for certain purposes. It is something to be adhered to all the time, and a man who is faithful in all his dealings both at home and abroad, has the best chance of success.

Ed Howe, the sage of Potato Hill, can hardly be accused of being a strict religionist, and yet in his homely philosophy and experience, he has discovered that doing right is one of the surest means of success.

If any boy or girl is knocking about seeking some secret of success none better can be offered than strict integrity.

To be just and upright in all things may occasionally get you into difficulties, but as a rule and in the long run it pays.

A man who keeps his hands clean and his heart right is always prepared for any attack, and as it has been roughly expressed, "He can look any man square in the eye and tell him to go to blazes."

What Price Beauty?

Which Type Of Woman Are You?

There are many varieties of woman, to be sure. But there are two outstanding types with which we are concerned today. The one who is calm, poised, and efficiently conducting the duties to which she has been assigned, and the other harried, strained, rushing futilely about, accomplishing little more than wrinkles with her poor system of management.

Invariably the woman who has no sort of a system for her work is the woman who finds her days so taken up with work that she has no time for anything else—not a minute to read or to play. She is the woman, too, who is cross and irritable and so worn out by the time night comes that she is too tired to do anything but go to bed.

Naturally, her looks must suffer.

Tell the average woman that you have heard of a new cream that will erase from her face all the lines of worry and you will never know a minutes rest until you have told her where it might be obtained. But tell a tired, nagging woman that she can prevent tiny lines from creeping into her face by adopting a system for her work, and she will laugh at you.

It may be bromidic, nevertheless, it is true that system wins success. The difference between the hurriers and the people who really accomplish big things and hold to youth and beauty is in the system established in the latter's lives. Every big woman who has reached success has done it by conserving her energy for the important things, wasting nothing on fruitless rushing about. Not that she excludes play. No indeed, she provides for that as a necessary part of her upkeep.

Begin your day the night before by getting a full quota of sleep. Get up in the morning and start the day right by first planning your work that you will have time to read—time for friends—time for pleasure, and time for the observance of health and beauty rules; eating slowly, for one thing, relaxing the muscles of the eyes and the body occasionally during the course of a day's work, brushing the hair night and morning—all of which are very necessary in keeping alive the spirit of youth.

ANYWHERE TO ANYWHERE—BY TELEPHONE

TO SAVE YOUR TIME—

Place Your Out-of-Town Calls by Number!

HAVE you noticed that the long distance operator has been completing many of your out-of-town calls while you held the line?

We can give you this almost as fast as local service when you know the number of the distant telephone. It makes no difference whether you call "anyone" or a particular person at an out-of-town telephone; in either case you'll get an extra-rapid service if you can give the number.

Suppose you don't know the number—

We'll complete the connection and tell you the number at the time. But to save your time we suggest that you make a list of the names and addresses of all the persons or firms whom you are apt to call. Mail it to our Business Office and we will promptly supply you with their numbers.

A Word of Explanation—There are two kinds of long distance calls: Station-to-station and Person-to-person. On a station-to-station call we connect you with the out-of-town number just as we do on a local call. On a person-to-person call we connect you with the particular person desired at the distant telephone; these calls take about 25 per cent higher rate.

A Tire Chain that protects your Tires

The Goodyear Rubber Non-Skid Chain PROTECTS YOUR TIRES as well as you and your car.

The flat cross links of rubber fit the tire snugly and prevent a great deal of the wear that tread and sidewalls normally get—especially curb and rut wear. Being of rubber the links cannot dig into your tire.

This Goodyear Chain wears far longer than ordinary chains and gives maximum protection against dangerous side-skid because of its unique construction.
