ROCK HALL

The Easter display of natural flowers was unusually lovely but artificial flowers were surprisingly absent when we remember the flower gardens of unusual forms formerly worn on women's hats. The cemeteries were dotted with the finest blossoms procurable.

At last the ground is drying enough for spring plowing to begin and fields and gardens showed the effect. Dainty apple blossoms had added to the beauty begun by earlier trees. Vines are putting forth shoots. In other words—Spring is here.

Beautiful Easter weather brought record-breaking congregations to the churches. The Methodist Episcopalians heard a splendid morning sermon by the resident minister, Rev. W. S. Grant, from Luke 24:5, 6, "Why Seek Ye the Living Among the Dead? He is not here, but is risen." This forceful sermon was very impressive to the hearers. A solo was sung by Mrs. Robert Shallcross. Afternoon Sunday School numbered two hundred thirty-nine, quite a number of whom were visitors. It is pleasant to note how many of them apply for certificates of attendance. The evening program in the Methodist church created much interest. Following singing, "Said the Angel Bright" by choir; prayer by Rev. Grant; singing, "He is not here, but is risen" by Dorothy Urie; "An Easter Welcome" by Preston Jacob; "Pass It Sound" by Isabel Jones; "Sunbeam" by Virginia Carter; "A Little Beginner" by Vernon Joiner; "The Decorator" by Helen Durand; "The Question" by Walter Parsons; "Good Evening" by Gertrude Westcott; "Easter Bells" by a class of children; "The Heeson" by Virginia Rodney; "Wouldn't It Be Nice" by Mildred Warner; "An Easter Lady" by Marian Rodney; solo by Frances Berger; "The Hyacinth" by Lorraine Coleman; "Mr. Lily" by June White; "Praise with your Pocket Book" by Wilson Moffett; address by pastor; offering taken by Doris Downey, Eva Jacob, Frances Berger and Eleanor Droll; "The Angel of the Lilies" by Erma Jacob; "The Lilies by Helen Curtis; "Easter Day" by Mary Smith; "I'm Glad" by Beatrice Berger; solo, "Tis True, He Died" by Mr. Charles Judefind; "Another Easter" by Leona Davis; "Tis No Wonder" by Christine Moffett; "The Millionaires" by Carl Orr; "The Easter Story" by Eleanor Droll; "Life's Easter Time" by Elaine Bramble; "A Boy's Greeting" by Mona White; "Step Into the Garden" by Eva Jacob; solo "A Light Across the Hills" by Mr. Newton Downey; "The Message of Easter" by May White; "Which One?" by Doris Downey; "Take Up Thy Cross" by Frances Berger; "The World Is Keeping Easter" by Emily Tracy; "A Closing Suggestion" by Francis Buckheit; singing, "Ring On" by choir; benediction. The collection amounted to $12.50.

Wesley Chapel was decorated with hyacinths Sunday when an Easter program was presented after the Sunday School. The number present was two hundred and nine. The collection for home missions amounted to $69.09. The program was: Opening chorus Easter Alleluia, by choir; prayer by Rev. J. L. Elderdicke; chorus "Glory of Easter" by choir; responsive reading; "The Gift of Joy" by Rev. C. L. Dawson and choir reading "The Gift of Abiding Love," by Mrs. S. E. Burgess; recitation, "Easter" by Agnes Joiner; exercise, "Easter Love" by Gladys Jacquette, Naomi Mench, Mary Smith, solo and chorus by Mrs. Burns and choir; responsive reading; "The Gift of Companionship" by Miss Helen Shirley and Mrs. Hilda Hill; recitation "Easter Day" by Mildred Coleman; recitation "An Easter Card" by Eva Carter; recitation, "Call to Workers" by Anna Lee Hadawa; primary song, "We'll Wave a Welcome"; responsive reading, "The Gift of the Heart" by Misses Elizabeth Leary and Blanche Coleman; recitation, "Faith" by Miriam Ford; recitation, "The Blue Bird" by Virginia Hague; chorus, "Stay Not in Sorrow" by choir; responsive reading "The Gift of Devotion" by Misses Virginia Thompson and Nina Clark; recitation "Easter" by Jean Leary; recitation "Spring Song" by Rose Ella Leaverton; chorus, "Behold the Glory" by choir; responsive reading "The Gift of Service" by Miss Louise Coleman and Mrs. Jesse Downey; address by Rev. C. L. Dawson; offering; closing chorus "Sing On" by choir; benediction by Dr. J. L. Elderdicke. A pleasant incident of the day was the presentation by the choir of a piece of silver to the bridal couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Downey, the former being concertist and the latter assistant organist in the excellent orchestra of this church.

The baseball game with Chestertown opponents was postponed last week.

PICTURE PARLOR

SATURDAY, APRIL 23rd
Carl Lammle presents
KENNETH MARLAN and VIOLE DANA in
"THE ICE FLOOD"

A stirring tale of thrills and heart throbs in the timberlands. A young millionaire who pits his fists and his money against wolf-like lumberjacks—who fight for the joy of fighting.

Also Comedy.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27th
Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer presents
PAULINE STARK and CONRAD NAGEL in
"ISUN-UP"

Here is the most "ripping" mountaineer picture ever made. A tale of passionate love, undying feuds, amazing sacrifice. It touched the heart of Broadway. It will stir a nation's soul.

Also Chapter 4 of "Silent Flyer" and Comedy.

Wednesday on account of the rain, Lewis has expected to play against the Rock Hall team on its own grounds.

Our fishermen are making no money. Sometimes they do not average one shad to a net and a shipment of herrin'—barely clears expenses.

A surprise party was given Mr. Joshua Thomas last Thursday evening by his friends: the home of his parents, Capt. and Mrs. Charles Thomas.
