D. A. R. Activities

The 36th Continental Congress of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution was held in Washington, April 18th to 23rd inclusive. Those attending from Old Kent Chapter were Miss Fannie E. Stuart, Regent, and the following alternates and members: Mrs. Wm. G. Smyth, Mrs. Charles H. Skirven, Miss Emma Knight, Miss Elizabeth Bottomley, of Millington, Mrs. Geo. E. Cornell and Miss Bessie Asprill, of Washington, and Mrs. George E. Albee, of Laurel.

Second installment published by Old Kent Chapter, of The Flag Code, endorsed by the National Flag Conference, Washington, 1924.

Proper Use of Bunting

Bunting for the National colors should be used for covering a speaker's desk, draping over the front of a platform and for decoration in general. Bunting should be arranged with the blue above, the white in the middle and the red below.
When flags of two or more nations are displayed they should be flown from separate staffs of the same height and the flags should be of approximately equal size. International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of another nation in time of peace.
When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting horizontally or at an angle from the window sill, balcony or front of building, the union of the flag should go clear to the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half staff.
When the flag is suspended over a sidewalk from a rope, extending from a house to a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flag should be hoisted out from the building towards the pole, union first.

When the flag is displayed in a manner other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, whether indoors or out. When displayed either horizontally or vertically against a wall, the union should be uppermost and to the observer's left. When displayed in a window it should be displayed the same way, that is, with the union or blue field to the left of the observer in the street. When festoons, rosettes, or drapings are desired, bunting of blue white and red should be used, but never the flag.

Sarah Elisabeth Stuart, Publicity Chairman.

YACHTSMEN PLANNING CHESAPEAKE RACES

At the first annual dinner of the Chester River Yacht Club, here Saturday night, it was announced by Commodore Nicols Hardcastle, of the Miles River Yacht Club, that proposals have been made by the Philadelphia Corinthian Yacht Club for a four days' cruise the last of June, to start at Cape May, thence to Gibson Island, Md., to Mogathy and St. Michaels, and thence back to Philadelphia, by way of Chesapeake City. The plan, suggested by the Philadelphia club, will probably be accepted by the Eastern Shore yacht clubs.

The suggestion came in connection with a race to be put on by the Philadelphia Corinthians from New London to Cape May the last of June. They are trying to secure the consent of the Cruising Club of America to carry the race from Cape May to Gibson Island in the Chesapeake Bay, around the Virginia Capes and over July 4.

On the following week end the Chesapeake Cruising Club will probably run a four-day open cruise, picking up passengers at Mogathy and running, the second day, to St. Michaels; the third day to Annapolis and the last day to Chesapeake City. On each day the Philadelphia clubmen hope to have the sailing craft port-to-port. It has been suggested that the Miles River Club furnish a cup for the race to that city and also that they entertain the visiting yachtsmen. The object of the Philadelphia boatmen is to get the Long Island Sound yachtsmen interested in the Chesapeake Bay so that they will spend a few weeks in these waters following the completion of their own racing season. The Philadelphia yachtsmen also, it is announced, hope to run a race in mid-September from Turkey Point to Point-No-Point and back and make this an annual feature in the Chesapeake. It is believed a large number of yachtsmen will be interested in the whole program which is now being seriously considered by the local Eastern Shore clubs.

Life And Love In A Land Of Promise

A tale of hope, of love, of the fight against nature, of a struggle between one man and one woman, all in a land of promise—that's the story told by Thomas Meighan's latest Paramount production, "The Canadian," which comes to The Lyceum Friday and Saturday of next week.

Taken from W. Somerset Maugham's play and scenarized by J. Clarkson Miller, Director William Beaudine has, from advance reports, brought a real picture to the screen. Following "Tin Gods," Meighan elected to play Frank Taylor, a role which he considered as strong in dramatic possibilities as the earlier character. The entire company journeyed to Alberta, Canada, where in the foothills of the Rockies, they enacted the play in the precise locale described by its author.

"The Canadian" is a man knocked down for the count but fighting back. It seems that a storm ravaged his wheat the preceding year, and he is now working for Ed Marsh in an effort to earn sufficient money with which to start all over. One day, Ed's impoverished aristocratic sister comes to live with him. She and his wife come to a parting of the ways, and, though disgusted on hearing Taylor say that he needs a woman who will work, Nora offers herself, if only he will take her away.

A wife in name only, they go to Frank's farm where the never ceasing struggle with elements is started once more. He tells her that if they have a successful year, he shall be able to send her back to England. She doesn't mention the fact that a check has arrived which makes this possible without his help.

When two natures are so strongly opposed to each other, it is inevitable that a break should come. And it does, but this time, Taylor is the victor. His wife's antagonism turns to respect. Then, a cold breath from the north sweeps down, and in a maddening fight, their crops are destroyed. What happens?

Poetry is above pigs, but pigs that America sent to Greece will do Greece more good than the poetry that Byron wrote.

Greece has won for herself the freedom that Byron wished her. She couldn't win without foreign help such a pedigreed pig as Broadcaster.
