ROCK HALL

June! June weather. June flowers. June Commencements, in fact, almost everything pertaining to June except June weddings. There seems to be a dearth of them. The rain of Sunday night was welcome after the dry period and several days of heat and seemed to make more fragrant the honeysuckle which is now in profuse blossoming all over the fence.

An early Sunday morning visit to the Methodist Episcopal Church disclosed that it had been decorated with beautiful potted and cut flowers in honor of Children's Day. The morning sermon by the resident minister, Rev. W. S. Grant, was from Acts 5:5, "A man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost." At Sunday School there were two hundred thirty-one present of whom five were visitors. Seven little children were baptized. Mary Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hudson; John Cavender, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Thompson; Isabel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Moffett; James Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parsons; Betty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Jones; Howard Henning and Jean Randall, children of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Larimore. The evening service was devoted to the Children's Day program which was as follows: Musical prelude, Mrs. Robert Shallcross at the piano; singing, "Welcome Day of Gladness" by choir; prayer by Rev. W. S. Grant; singing, "The Goodness of the Lord," by choir; recitations—"Welcome," "Hallelujah," "My Welcome," Helen Durkin; "Never Out of Style," Isabel Jones; by Orpha Jacob, "God Loves Me," Ada Grace Thompson; "I Love Jesus," Virginia Carter; singing, "The Holy Word," choir; recitations—"Suppose," Ethel Rodney; "The Birth of Children's Day," Mary Warner; "Our Blossoms," Lillian Donnelly; "Beauty All Around Us," Dolores Thompson; solo by Gladys Grant; recitations—"That's Why," Lorraine Warner; "Seen and Heard," Lorraine Coleman; "The Aviator," Walter Parsons; singing by class of Children, "God's Way," Gertrude Westcott; "A Call for Volunteers," William Orr; singing, "Ring for Summer Gladness" by choir; recitations—"Flowers to Give Away," Henrietta Rodney; "June," Mary Smith; "A Lesson from Summer Beach," three girls; address by the pastor; offering, $30.41, received by Doris Downey, Eva Jacobs, Frances Berger, Leona Davis; duet by Virginia and Henrietta Rodney; recitations—"Broadcast," Beatrice Berger; "Wild Flowers," Erma Jacob; singing, "Eternal Love," choir; recitations—"The Teachings," Carl Orr; "Stars," Leona Davis; "God is Love," Elaine Bramble; "The Magic Key," Eva Jacob; by Doris Downey; "Flowers," Frances Berger; singing, "The Will Guide" by choir; report of secretary, Bayard Ayres; benediction by pastor. Mrs. Shallcross received the support of Messrs. Orr, Downey, Walter Briers and Charles Parsons with musical instruments. The song numbers were especially pleasing, a duet by Mrs. Millard Rodney and Mrs. W. S. Grant with chorus attracted much attention. The numbers were announced by the superintendent, Mr. Taylor. The offering will go to the General Board of Education. Next Sunday the school will convene at 9:30 A. M. and continue so during the summer months, the later services with sermon to begin at 10:30 or shortly thereafter. Next Sunday the sermon will be delivered by the district superintendent, Rev. O. E. Jones in a hall as the church building will be undergoing some remodeling and interior decorating for several weeks.

The Annual Convention of the Kent County Sunday School Association was held in the M. E. Church here last Wednesday. A three session meeting beginning at 8:30 a. m. This body has as a motto "Do something for somebody every day." The devotional service was conducted by Rev. Ivanhoe Willis in the absence of Dr. W. F. Corbett. The address of welcome was made by the resident minister, Rev. W. S. Grant and the response by Mr. William Hague. The president of the association, Mr. Henry T. Caldwell, named the members of the conference. An address on "The Essentials of Religious Education" was made by Rev. M. B. Hamm, before the adult department. Mrs. Harvey B. Moore had charge of the elementary division and Col. J. H. Cudlipp of the Young Peoples department. In the afternoon Dr. Frank M. McKibben had arrived from Baltimore and delivered an address "Giving Youth a Chance" and Rev. Hamm made an address on "Giving Youth a Chance" and address on "Educating for Temperance" which had been scheduled for the absent Rev. G. W. Crabb. Reports were made by superintendent of the various divisions. The officers for next year were elected and installed as follows: President, Henry T. Caldwell; first vice president, H. S. Startt; statistical secretary and treasurer and chairman of finance committee, F. Baynard Harper; assistant statistical secretary, Miss Emma Shafer; recording secretary, Mrs. Harry T. Williams; superintendent children's division, Mrs. Harvey B. Moore; superintendent adult division Rev. S. G. Hague; superintendent young people's work Bayard Ayres; superintendent teachers and leaders training, C. W. Clark; administration, Fred G. Usilt; member executive committees, John N. Bennett; superintendent Sabbath observance, W. T. Hague. In the evening a devotional service was led by Rev. G. W. Clark and an address on "Can We Produce a Christian Citizenship for Tomorrow?" made by Dr. McKibben. Music was under the direction of Mrs. Robert Shallcross. Dinner and supper were served by ladies of the local Sunday School in the Knights of Pithias Hall. There were eighty-eight pastors and delegates present besides many other visitors. The evening collection was taken to start fund to send the president and another member to the national convention which will meet at Waukegan, Wis. The convention accepted an invitation to meet at St. James next year.

After a largely attended session of the Sunday School at Wesley Chapel which had been beautifully decorated with flowers, the Children's Day service was conducted at 10:45 a. m. Music was furnished by a choir and orchestra with appropriate selections. The program was: Opening chorus; prayer; responsive reading by the pastor, Rev. C. L. Dawson and choir; recitation, "Welcome," by Nora Mench; recitation, "The Welcome" by Earl Glenn; recitation, "The Sunbeams" by Harry Middleton; chorus, "Chiming Bells" by primary department; recitation, "My Welcome" by Virginia Brooks; recitation, "Joys of the Gardens," by Edna Shirley; recitation, "A Brief Speech" by Pearl Mench; recitation, "God is Love" by Elaine Bramble; recitation, "Little Things" by Ellen Davis; recitation, "A Little Garden," by John Dierker; chorus by the choir; recitation, "My Level Best" by Frank Parsons; recitation by Martha Brooks; recitation by Mary Brooks; recitation "The Magic Key," by Edna Marie Dierker; recitation by Doris Townsend; recitation, "Winging Out" by Walter Mench; recitation, "What Would Happen" by Gladys Jacquette; recitation, "Father Bless Us," by Agnes Joyner; chorus, "When the King Calls" by primary department; recitation, "A Bird's Wish" by Nina Brice; recitation, "June" by Mary Smith; recitation, "My Flag" by Robert Tucker; recitation, "Bottle Up the Sunshine" by Anna Lee Hadaway; recitation, "Now" by Frank Ford; recitation, "The Loveliest Flowers" by Elizabeth Dierker; chorus by choir; exercise, "Faith in God," by Amy Lee Wilkins and the little folk; presentation of diplomas to the cradle roll children of four years graduate into the primary department by the pastor; recitation, "Services" by Eva Carter; recitation, "Sometimes" by Nina Ford; recitation by Rose Ella Leaverton; recitation, "A Tip" by Billie Thompson; recitation, "Little Lights" by Mildred Coleman; recitation, "A Little Sunbeam" by Jean Leary; chorus by choir; recitation, "By The Shore" by Miriam Ford; recitation, "A Singin' Sunbeam" by Virginia Hague; recitation, "What Do You Think?" by Caroline Hadaway; address by the pastor; recitation, "What Would You Do?" by Richard Jacquette; offering $72.90; voluntary by orchestra; closing chorus by choir; benediction. Don't forget the festival and supper on the 23rd at this church.

The schools are in the final days of the year with examinations over and only the finishing touches to be added. The graduating class celebrated class night last evening. They accepted an invitation to a banquet this evening from the juniors. Both these entertainments were held at the High School buildings. Tomorrow night the commencement exercises will be held in Junior Order Hall. Last Sunday at 2:30 P. M., the Rev. C. L. Atwater, of Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church in Chestertown delivered the sermon to the senior class before a large audience at the High School auditorium. Next week we hope to be able to give these activities in greater detail.

The volley ball team of girls and Francis Williams, George Williams and Franklin Jacob were accompanied last Thursday by Mrs. W. A. P. Strang on a trip to Homewood where they were guests of the Public Athletic League and competed in the games. Randolph Burgess won the hundred yard dash in eight seconds and Francis Williams won the high jump, 5 ft. 8 in. and broke the state record. Congratulations to the girls were entertained at the State Normal School and the boys were assigned to homes, all returning Saturday after a fine visit that included a trip to Carlin Park.

The Misses Thelma Moffett, Virginia Wood and Blanche Gustafson have returned from the state Normal School at Towson for the summer vacation.

Mr. Elwood Taylor, student at Dickinson College, has brought home with him the following prizes won in athletic events: April 9th, Cross Country medal given by a graduate of the school, Gold, 1st place. Miss Florence Cornelius was operated on for tonsillitis and adenoids last week at Maryland General Hospital.

Miss Annie Sappington is spending the week with Baltimore friends.

A few of our people saw Lindbergh (for practical purposes there is only one) Monday when he flew over Tolchester and Fairlee on his way to New York. If he wants a warm welcome let him stop here long enough for people to become aware of the event. Each one probably sees in Lindbergh what he might have become had circumstances been differently ordered.

Mr. Mark Pettibone has purchased four building lots, Mrs. Marion Coleman one, and Miss Etta Coleman one near the Adventist Church. Mr. Coleman is preparing to refinish his dwelling in stucco. It will be a very attractive home when completed. Miss Etta Coleman will be an attendant at the S. D. A. camp meeting this week.

Guthrie and little daughter, Gladys Elizabeth and Miss Grace Culley, of Galena, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Mardtke, of Baltimore, also Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Coffay, of Baltimore, and a motoring party who are touring the shore. A Sunday evening guest was Miss Sarah Revelle who walked to Gratitudine after listening to the sermon of Reverend Atwater to the graduating class of which she is a member. It makes one wonder if our young people are adding the fad of "reducing" or if the pure love of hiking induced such a walk in a hot afternoon. Mrs. Revelle came Monday from Wilmington and will remain until Friday. She will be joined Thursday by Rev. Revelle and son William, and she will attend the commencement exercises that evening.

Mr. Thomas Ringgold, of Florida, is spending the summer with his sister, Mrs. Joel Smith and other relatives.
