

It takes some thought and good judgment to decide what is worth doing and what is but a waste of time.

Wool. Sheep were probably the first animals to be domesticated, even when man was still scarcely civilized.

Fashions, fads, foibles. Cascades, points, and the uneven hem-line give the long appearance to the short skirt.

Where to buy. Every season most housewives buy many things from neighbors or various individual farmers.

Confidence. That Youthful, Romantic Hangover. Readers desiring a personal reply can address Miss Flo, in care of this newspaper.

Dear Miss Flo: Before I married my husband I was in love with a much younger and much more attractive man.

How would you like your husband to open up a friendship with one of his old sweethearts—one to whom in his mind you suffered by comparison?

Personally, I believe the danger of such mishap is slight. I think you are suffering from a youthful, romantic hang-over—and in your comparison you are picturing your former sweetheart as a perfect being with none of the faults possessed by the man you married.

Part of the trouble is that while you are well aware of the shortcomings of the man you did marry—you aren't aware of those of the man you didn't marry.

OUR TIME. But did it cost her only that? She paid the price of hours when she should have been exercising out in the open air.

Why is woman such a willing pack horse? A man will not "stay put" in that fashion.

price and the quality. Next season when the time of need rolls around just peep into your book and remind yourself of whom you had best buy.

Cleaning windows. Nothing makes a home look lovelier than clean and gleaming windows.

STORING SWEET POTATOES. Sweet potatoes do not keep well in the home kitchen or cellar.

YOUR TOOTHBRUSH. To keep your toothbrush clean: rinse it well after using; sprinkle it with salt; hang it by itself in the sun.

SMILES. "Tommy, what shape is the earth?" "Bad shape, I guess, from what Dad says."
