ROCK HALL

Charles Juedind, United States Weather observer for this section says that the thermometer registered 16 degrees above zero Thursday and 15 above Saturday morning. There was another in town that indicated 17 degrees at 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

All the water mains have been laid and tested and all defects remedied. The thirteen plugs are in place. The pumping apparatus has been in use several days, the fire engine at this writing is in Chestertown and will be hauled when brought down through the engine house has been delayed in construction by cold weather, so it soon will be no unusual sight to see the Volunteer Fire Company drilling. Girls, be careful of your love for uniforms—for, of course, you do may become more serious. The boys are making strenuous efforts to provide necessary equipment. The supper Thursday evening was very well patronized, indeed. The delicious supper was followed by an impromptu dance. Their next entertainment will be on the 26th when a play "The Midnight Sun" at the picture parlour will be followed by a page dance. The advertisement on another page gives fullest particulars.

This town and the Fifth District is finding it hard to meet all the calls for money at the present time. Christmas is nearing and that means the very spirit of giving since it commemorates the gift of the Christ. The fire company must be supported in its unselfish endeavor to protect the lives and property of the town. Easton hospital the Red Cross and the Ambulance fund, and Christmas seals all have their supporters.

Two killings seem universal because those who have none to butcher are assisting those who have.

The Elementary School is preparing a Christmas entertainment to be held on the 19th, next Monday.

Death and a number of mishaps have taken place. The former is a former townsman, William H. Jones, who died at his home in Baltimore, after a year's painful illness. Daniel Middleton received a load of shot in a foot Saturday evening by the fall of a gun. Edward Hudson crashed the end of a finger while helping lift an engine last Thursday. It was amputated Friday by Dr. W. W. Beall. William Kendall had the ball of a thumb cut off when a car that was being jacked up fell on the jack.

Joyes Maccomb ran a bicycle into a barbed wire and was cut about the face, requiring a stitch in his lip. John Ashley, of Centreville, was out in a boat one day last week with a friend and it sank just after they had set some decoy ducks. Both men were wearing rubber boots and were in the icy water nearly an hour. Only their being good swimmers saved them from drowning. Mr. and Mrs. Ashley and little Mary Dixon Ashley visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ashley here Saturday and Sunday. John Edwards is able to get out in the sunshine some.

William M. Taylor has moved from Taylor's ranch to Doylestown, Pa. Elwood Vansant will remove to the same place after a couple of months.

Sunday schools came back to their own last Sunday. The Methodist Episcopal school numbered 221, including 8 visitors. The morning sermon from Hebrews 12:14 was powerful and the evening sermon from Joshua 2:21 was fine. Both were preached by the resident minister, Rev. W. S. Grant. Epworth League was conducted at 7 p. m., by Mr. Bayard Ayres. The address on the topic, "Peace on Earth Among Men of Good Will," was made by Dr. Livingood, of Washington College to an interested audience. The Misses Frances and Lillian Orr sang "My Jesus, I Love Thee." This school is preparing for a Christmas entertainment to be held at 7 P. M., Thursday 29th.

Wesley M. P. Chapel Sunday School numbered 137. They also are preparing to celebrate Christmas, at 7 o'clock Tuesday 27th. The Ladies Aid Society held a meeting last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. William Hastings.

The Seventh Day Adventist Church is open for services each evening this week as it is the week of Prayer. Sunday evening Elder R. M. Spencer, president of Chesapeake Conference, was present and gave a sermon on Daniel's vision of the great image. After the holidays he will give a series of lectures on the prophecies of Mr. Daniel Thompson and brother Clarence, visited Baltimore Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Singers Coleman, of Baltimore, spent last Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Elburn.

The fire engine arrived yesterday about noon and the school children manifested deep interest in it. Several of the firemen went to Chestertown to unload it from the car. Thos. Tucker had the pleasure of driving it down. They were accompanied by Mr. Phelps, of Elmira, N. Y., who will return next week to drill the company. After a while the engine was taken to the ferry wharf to do some pumping. It is believed the engine will be satisfactory. It was finally housed with its 500 feet of hose in Wm. C. Francis' garage.

The Jr., O. U. A. M. basket ball team will play against Chestertown High School Thursday evening in a preliminary game at Washington College gymnasium at which time Washington will play Arnold College.

Loller's all-star basket ball team from up the county came down last Friday night and played the second of a series of games and, although the game was something of a surprise to the local boys, who were without the services of both the regular forwards, they patched up a team with the help of Mr. Dawson, of Wesley Chapel, and gave the up-the-county boys a merry time, defeating them 26 to 23 in the tightest game ever played on this floor. Friday night the third game of the series will be played. It is also hoped that a team of girls from up the county will play a team of local girls in a preliminary game.

A colored man, Lewin Brown, living on S. Elwood Burgess' farm at Edesville, had a horse that got a leg broken last Saturday and had to be shot.

WHY NOT FORGIVE?

Our Heavenly Father, high above, His children on earth, whom He doth love. He does not look down on any alone, But guards and guides to our heavenly home.

We all may have erred in days gone by, But Christ forgives us, He, the most High.

Forgives us all, sisters and brothers, If Christ forgives, why not others?

Hard feelings are a very bad thing, They cut, thrust, administer a sting. Let earth change anew, like Heaven above, And change enmity to deepest love.

We all have hours of joy and sorrow, They come today and go tomorrow, For God, who watches from up above, Guides us to right with tenderest love.

I write these verses for you today, Because I know some who feel this way, Let us change our ways for Him above, And show to others forgiving love.
