

ROCK HALL

We are gratified that Mrs. Morgan Browne finished the census enumeration so quickly that our number was the first to be officially released. Six hundred and ninety-nine was a good showing, but now we are seven hundred, the week old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harmon being the one to make up the even number of hundreds. The little one, so far, has not seemed very strong to the whole town, which certainly has an interest in it, hoping that robust health and happiness may come to it for a long number of years.

May brought summer weather for a while. Sunday was pleasant and people responded by attending church services. The morning sermon at the M. E. Church was preached by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Grant, from "Wretched man that I am," Romans 7:24. In the evening from "There is no difference," Romans 3:22. A hundred and sixty-six attended Sunday School at 2 o'clock. On invitation to attend the Sunday School Convention in Chestertown on the 13th was read to the school as a whole. In addition to the officers and teachers six other delegates were chosen: Mrs. Robert Shalcross, Mrs. Clarence Hersch, Mrs. Millard Rodney, Miss Cora Thomas, Miss Doris Downey and Mr. Walter Thomas. The Epworth League at 5 P. M. was presided over by Mr. Elwood Taylor who gave a talk on "Finding God." A solo was sung by Thelma Davis and a Scripture reading by Miss Grace Culley. Next Sunday is Mother's Day and all the services will take note of the fact with a special sermon in the morning at 10:30 o'clock. For two years this church has been in debt for the church house property without being able to pay anything on the principal, so the Watermen's Protective Association, which has a membership from several churches, has undertaken to pay the interest which is now due and five hundred of the principal, over six hundred in all, most of which was available last Sunday. Needless to say such generosity is thoroughly appreciated by the church officials and members. It is very heartening.

Miss Mary Judefind's home was the scene of a popcorn party for children and some of their elders last Saturday evening.
