

YOUR SPORTS AND MINE

by H. S. Are

LOCAL FANS are more than pleased with the way that Jake Flowers has been hitting the ball in the first few games played by the Brooklyn Robins. Flowers appears to be in for a big season with the willow.

Brooklyn has been slow in starting but it is the opinion of most of the experts that the Robins will finish up near the top in the first division of the National League.

Sports writers in all sections of the country are praising the second base combination of Wright and Flowers as one of the best in the National League. Much of the success of the team will depend upon the way this pair behave.

Connie Mack's Athletics got off to a start that befits their seat on the throne as kings of the baseball world. If they can maintain the pace they have set the pennant will again rest in the Philadelphia locker.

THE HANDICAP committee at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club is making plans to make golf attractive to all this season.

THE HIGH School nines in Kent County are slow in getting started this season. Of course there is no rush to get the county league into action.

Chestertown, naturally, is favored to win the county title when the league does go into action. The local school has by far a larger number of candidates from which to pick its team.

Galena had a fine team for a small school last year and an exceptional high school hurler. But this pitcher has moved to Middletown, Del., and Coach Start is without a dependable moundman.

Kent has never gone far in the inter-county baseball series. In basketball and soccer the Kent champions have frequently appeared in the Eastern Shore finals but in baseball the winners have seldom gotten past the first stage of elimination.

NO MATTER what the current sport Kent County fans are ever interested in basketball. They have begun to looking forward to the next cage season despite the fact that the last one is only a few weeks gone.

Basketball next season should be just as full of thrills for the locals as the past one. The Washington team last year was an unknown quantity and yet it copped the State title.

AND SPEAKING of basketball the Chestertown High School should be able to put a winning team on the court next year. The local school boys were generally conceded to have the best team on the Shore last year.

Next season, despite the loss of the team's mainstays in Hodgson and Clements, the Chestertown boys should have a fine team. Young Don Falls gives every indication of turning into a star of the first water and Johns and Nicholson are already high school performers worthy of a much larger school than Chestertown.

Reese, though handicapped by size, is pretty sure of a berth on next year's quint.

County Athletes Will Have Tries At Old Records

Several Have Stood For Many Years

When Kent County boy and girl athletes toe the marks at the Washington College athletic field on May 19 in the Spring Athletic Meet sponsored by the Playground Athletic League they will have plenty of marks to shoot at if they intend to break any records.

A couple of the records for county events have stood since back in the teens. A few new marks were made last season. The majority of the records, however, are three or four years old.

The records held in the county are as follows:

College Tossers Face Teachers Next Saturday

Kibler Points To Four Day Trip

Tom Kibler expected to lead his Washington College baseball squad on the field this afternoon for the first practice session since the Easter holidays. The Washington nine faces the Pennsylvania State Teachers College team at West Chester on Saturday.

The Washington tossers in their first two appearances have shown promise of being a nifty little college nine. They trimmed Osteopathy easily and without any extended use of the willow. The next Saturday they came back to slap out an 9 to 5 victory over Hagerstown by hitting the ball solidly when hitting was needed.

Kibler has a fine college hurler in Griffin and a great prospect in Carney, the freshman lefthander. Frank Badart, a veteran of a couple of seasons, has as yet to make his appearance on the mound for the Washington team. He is a dependable hurler and will likely see lots of duty before the season ends.

The Washington College mentor is pointing his team toward a four day road trip that starts on May 14th with a tilt with Mt. St. Mary's at Emmittsburg. The following day the locals will cross bats with Maryland and will play two games in the next two days with the Marine nine at Quantico. It is these contests, particularly the Mt. St. Mary's and Maryland tilts that Kibler is looking forward to winning.
