DEATHS

Mrs. Willie Wickes Earle, wife of William B. Earle, of "Melfield" near Centreville, died Thursday afternoon at the home of her aunt, Mrs. John Cummings, at the Greenway Apartments, in Baltimore. She had been ill several months and last fall was under treatment at Union Memorial Hospital for several weeks. The deceased was born in Kent county, and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Wickes. She spent a greater part of her early life with her aunt in Baltimore. Following her marriage to Mr. Earle, she made her home at "Melfield," on Chester River.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Earle is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Betty Earle, who is a student at Roland Park Country School. Funeral services were held in Baltimore Saturday and the remains were brought to Melfield where interment took place in the family burying ground at 2:30 o'clock Saturday. Rev. Alward Chamberlaine conducted the committal service.

Samuel H. Todd, well-known retired business man of Galena, died on Wednesday. He was 73 years old and had lived there most of his life. He is survived by his wife and an adopted daughter. Todd was a cousin of William H. Todd, the shipbuilder, and also a number of relatives living in Wilmington.

Harrison E. Cooper, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John H. Dyer, Worton, Md., Wednesday, January 22nd, in his 84th year. He was born in Delaware and came to Maryland when he was 12 years old. Mr. Cooper was one of Worton's highly respected citizens, a man of sterling character, quiet disposition and always ready to help his fellowman. Every attention and devotion was given him by his children, his wife having died some years ago.

He is survived by one sister, Miss Ingebor Cooper, of Worton and eight children, Mrs. George P. Ashley, Mrs. J. A. Money, Mrs. Walter Moffett, Mrs. Sewell J. Lee, Mrs. John Dyer, Mrs. Henry Rasin, Mrs. Charles Crowding and Mr. George N. Cooper.
