DETROIT'S O. K. SUITS ARGENTINES

Buenos Aires Buys 32 Dodge Brothers Cars Because Over 100 Are In Municipal Service in Detroit.

The city of Detroit's judgment on motor car values has a far reaching influence.

Away down in Argentina, the city of Buenos Aires has just bought a fleet of 32 Dodge Brothers motor cars. Dodge Brothers car was chosen, according to city officials, because Detroit has more than 100 of them in its municipal service, with an impressive record for dependability and economy.

The sale was made by Julio Fevre Hijo & Co., Dodge Brothers dealer, in the face of keen competition. All the cars are for use of the police department, which is rated as one of the most efficient in the world. In the fleet are 20 touring cars, five limousines and seven ambulances.

There are approximately 100 cities which operate Dodge Brothers cars in fleets of three or more, and several hundred others which have one or two in service. The average size of the Dodge Brothers fleets is 10. Los Angeles owns more than 100; Cleveland has 51; Newark, N. J. 23; Kansas City, 25. The city of Tokio, Japan, uses 23 Dodge Brothers chassis in its fire department. A. S. Turner & Sons, Chestertown, Md., are dealers for Dodge Cars.

Strength and Safety In the Body of Steel

DODGE BROTHERS BUSINESS COUPE

Never was the word "safety" so frequently heard in motoring circles as it is today. Never was the need for safe traffic regulation safe driving and safe motor car construction so obvious to the public.

Dodge Brothers foresaw the urgency of the safety factor eight years ago, when they began building the car which now bears their name. Instead of making touring car and roadster bodies of wood, as has been the almost universal custom, they built these bodies of steel. And, adding to value and appearance as well as safety, they developed their now famous permanent enamel finish, which can be applied only to steel bodies because it is baked on at a temperature which would instantly reduce wood to ashes.

From this vital contribution to greater safety in motoring, came the even more important development of today — the closed body of steel, as exemplified by Dodge Brothers Business Sedan and Business Coupe.

In the construction of these sturdy closed cars, safety has been brought to is highest possible development. For the first time in closed car history, wood has been eliminated from the main structure of the body. Every panel, every rib, every pillar is steel. Even the door sills and window mouldings are steel.

Moreover, instead of being merely riveted or screwed into place, these steel parts are electrically welded together, with the result that the entire body is one substantial unit.

The result is a Sedan and a Coupe as nearly like all-steel Pullman coach as it is possible to build a motor car. And yet, so skillfully is the car designed that this vital element of safety has been added without any increase in weight, and without impairing that beauty of grace of line which has always characterized Dodge Brothers closed cars.
