There is not the enthusiasm among the tongers, and buyers, as in the years gone by. Strikes, and rumors of strikes, the county over, gives the oyster season a rather gloomy outlook. The "dinner dent he is moving eyerything that way. pail" is not so full as it used to be, and the working man in great part, is compelled to subsist on short rations, and this means much to the oyster industry. However we are hoping for the best. It is noticable that the education along the planting line, goes merrily on and it is noticable too, that our old friend Capt. such men as Allison, of Iowa, Hanna, Tom Howard is a convert to the planting scheme; well a good many of the oystering fraternity, are believers of the planting idea, and would be glad to see some plan of cultivation formulated, but to steer clear of the greedy sharks, the combines, and preserve unto the free and independent toilers, the right of free fishery their common heritage, is what bothers the masses. As one walks through the avenues of in Victor Liver Syrup that will revive and designed and is the work of that prince of marble and granite dealers, of the Eastern Shore, Mr. A. J. Hynson of Burlington Age-Herald. William Jennings Bryan has withdrawn himself from the race of 1904, absolutely and unequivocally, and when those who cannot carry their own States are also eliminated, including, perhaps, Mr. Pattison of Pennsylvania, and certainly including Mr. Olney of Massachusetts, Mr. Hill of New York and Mr. Cleveland of New Jersey and New York, as they must be if Democratic success be the object in view, then the name of Arthur Pue Gorman will appear as the one Middle State Democrat who can carry his own State-who is strong among business men-who commands the respect of the informed men in all walks of life. Mr. Gorman never poses. He is ever mentally alert. He is very much alive he is an American who understands the plays to the gallery. He was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth, and to-day he is one of the most respected and influential members of that body. He is ever a Democrat, and yet he commands the respect of his opponents. He would make a fine President. There is no better Presidential timber in the land than is comprised in this man who lives on the Potomac in neither the North nor made before Gorman, and the Democratic party will
