is determined that our citizens shall ** have plenty of fuel for the winter if they wish to supply themselves.

Mr. J. L. Gale, who has been a sufferer from the effects of hemorrhoids for about 18 years, is now a happy man. He thinks a permanent cure has been effected by Dr. Benson, of Baltimore.

There are more crabs in our waters than was ever known before. Mr. Jack Boyer on Wednesday caught 12 barrels. *
Mr. Jim Boyer on Sunday, while sitting * on a fallen tree along the bay shore, scooped up two barrels as they were floating by.

Lest we step beyond the bounds of discretion, we prefer to make no comments on the acting of the weatherman the past ten days. However, mud is better than dust, and there are signs of something better on the program for the next few days at least. The funeral services over the remains 3 of Mr. B. C. Legg, conducted by Rev. W. Burr, were held in the M. E. Church on Sunday forenoon. The bearers were Messrs. C. L. Miller, J. W. Joiner, M. Downey, F. Ayres, C. W. Ayres and T. | * H. Ayres. Casey Bros. had charge of 3 the funeral. Mr. Legg was one of our prominent citizens, highly esteemed by all who knew him. He was for thirtysix years a member of the M. E. Church and filled nearly all the offices of the church. Besides a widow two brothers, Messrs. B. F. and Wm. Legg, survive

The State's Attorney and Grand Jury * are commended for their push against 3 the liquor traffic in the county. But oh, 3 how sick many in this section are of the illicit business that causes so much | trouble, annoyance and expense each succeeding court session. If the question of license was again submitted ? many heretofore staunch local option ? advocates would give their votes in |* favor of license. They believe that a high license system would be far less 3 evil than the present condition. Surely | * something better than the existing condition is needed.

Mrs. Charles E. Davis had a narrow 3 escape from fatal injuries on Monday night as she was returning home from church service. As she was about to enter the front gate at her home she noticed a team approaching at a rapid | * gait. Stepping aside to escape its contact, her foot went into a small drain alongside the fence and she fell by the side of the fence, and the hub of the wheel struck hera crushing blow on the right side of the face. No bones were | * broken, but the lady's face was greatly bruised and the shock was terrific, from which she has been a great sufferer. There was a plank lying over and parallel with the little ditch, and the buggy | * wheels were within four inches of the | * same. The young man was a reckless driver, like many others driving through
