" MUCH YET REMAINS UNSUNG."

FIDELITY .- From the Spanish.

One eve of beauty, when the sun To gold converting one by one, Beside me on the bank was seated

A Seville girl with auburn hair,

She stooped, and wrote upon the sand, Just as the loving sun was going, With such a soft, small, shining hand, I could have sworn 'twas silver flow-

Her words were three, but not one more-- 1 What could Diana's motto be? The Syren wrote upon the shore— "Death, not inconstancy!"

And then her two large languid eyes I set the air on fire with sighs,

But one week more, and I believed As much the "oman as the sand.
